PITT HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

SERAFINO "FOGE" FAZIO

The man has a reputation. It's one that is deserved and well-earned. He's been associated with the game of college football for some 25 years now, and it only makes sense that Foge Fazio is the head coach of the Pitt Panthers.

In many ways, Foge Fazio is Pittsburgh personified. He was raised 10 miles down the road in Coraopolis, where he played high school football before coming to Pitt as an undergraduate. Since graduating from the University in 1960, he has been a graduate assistant, assistant coach, and he is now the 29th head coach in Panther football history.

As Fazio settles in for his second year as the leader of the Panthers, he carries this reputation with him. He is one heckuva coach, an outstanding recruiter, and he is a Pitt man. There's no mistaking any of those vital characteristics, which all add up to Pittsburgh's Foge Fazio.

Before even taking the head coaching position, Fazio worked hard at laying the groundwork for the reputation. His name was equally well known to Pittsburghers and to those people who comprise the world of college football. As an assistant coach, he was regarded as a defensive whiz and a top-flight recruiter. He was admired by his collegiate coaching colleagues.

It is no coincidence that Pitt's rise to national prominence as an outstanding defensive team occurred with Fazio as defensive coordinator. In 1980 and 1981 he put together a defensive unit that ranked first in the country against the rush and in total defense.

So it was no surprise that 1982, Fazio's first season as head coach, was highlighted by yet another fine defensive effort. Last season the Panthers were ranked fifth in rushing defense, third in scoring defense, and third in total defense.

Good defense is simply a big part of the Fazio Way. And thus it has become a major aspect of the Pitt football program. The Panthers, in fact, have the top-ranked rushing defense and total defense in the country over the past five years, according to the NCAA statistics. Also, Pitt is the only team in the nation to give up less than 100 yards a game rushing since 1978, the year before Jackie Sherrill named Fazio defensive coordinator and assistant head coach. While an assistant, Fazio's defensive philosophy pushed him to the top of his profession, as Inside Sports named him one of the top two assistants in the country in 1981.

Fazio was known as a hard-nosed player even during his days back at Coraopolis High School. He continued to play linebacker and center at Pitt where, as a starting center his senior year, he was named MVP, All-East, and honorable mention All-America, and played in the North-South All-Star game and the All-American Bowl. He also played linebacker for the Boston Patriots for one year.

Fazio's first squad as Pitt head coach achieved a 9-3 record and a Cotton Bowl invitation. His nine wins tied him for the most victories by a first-year Pitt head coach. Sherrill in 1977 and John Moorhead in 1907 are the only other head coaches in the school's history to record as many as nine wins in their initial season.

Although Fazio has proved his expertise in the past, 1982 was, nevertheless, a learning experience.

Fazio has seen the Pitt football program from many angles over the years. As an assistant coach and defensive coordinator, he grew accustomed to seeing the Panthers attain top national rankings, and was known to take part in the spring alumni game . . .

. . . and last season he led the charge from the sidelines in his first year as head coach . . .

"It's like anything else; you learn from past experience," said Fazio. "There are things that I have learned from my first-year situation. There are things that Foge Fazio has to do, and I think I can do them without any reservation because the program is squarely in my hands. I'm very fortunate that I have a good staff and that I have the backing of our administration.

"Last year made me a better person and, hopefully, a better football coach. I think I can handle the players; and I think that I can handle the situations on and off the football field. And as time goes by, I hope that we can prove that."

Besides having proven himself as a defensive tactician, Fazio is known as a fine recruiter, a direct result of his high visibility and popularity in the Pittsburgh area where he is active in civic enterprises, such as his annual golf tournament which raises funds for the Leukemia Society of America. Fazio's past recruiting accomplishments include bringing quarterback Dan Marino and a running back named Tony Dorsett to Pitt.

. . . which was capped off with an invitation to the Cotton Bowl, as his squad went 9-3, a record that placed Fazio among the most successful first-year head coaches in Pitt history.

Fazio was a high school coach at Ambridge (1963-64) and Coraopolis (1965-66) after serving as a graduate assistant at Pitt in 1962. He has also coached collegiately at Boston University (1967), Harvard (1968), and Cincinnati (1973-76).

In 1977 Sherrill named him to the Pitt staff as linebacker coach before promoting him to defensive coordinator before the 1979 season and then also naming him assistant head coach in December of 1979. From 1969-1972 Fazio was a member of Carl DePasqua's staff here at Pitt.

Fazio, who is 44 years old, is a 1960 graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. He is married to the former Norma Popovich and is the father of Kristen (15) and Vincent (12). The Fazio family resides in the Oakland section of Pittsburgh.

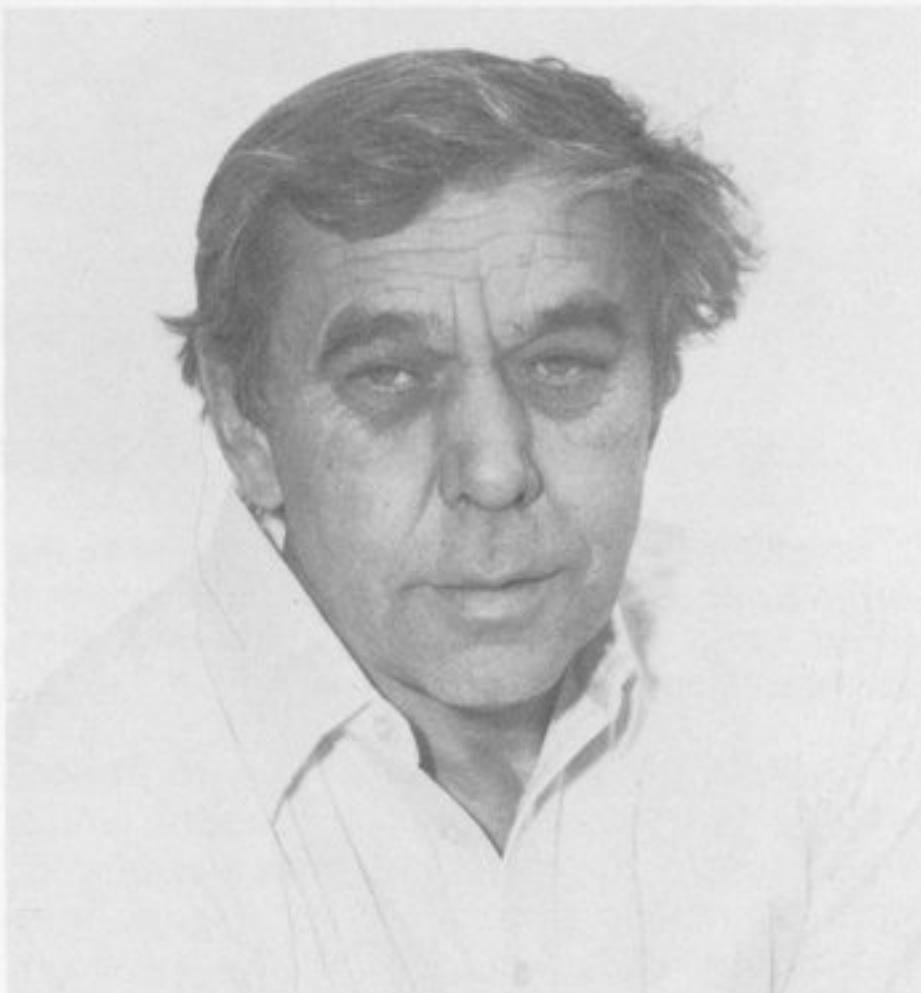
The Assistant Coaches



Joe Moore

Assistant Head Coach
Offensive Coordinator
Offensive Line

Joe Moore, in addition to his offensive line coaching duties, will be the offensive coordinator for the 1983 Panthers. This will be Moore's seventh season with the Pitt staff and included in his responsibilities is that of assistant head coach to Coach Foge Fazio.

While at Pitt, Moore has coached All-Americas Mark May, Jimbo Covert, and, presently, Bill Fralic.

"Joe Moore has shown tremendous knowledge of our offense and has done an outstanding job this spring of putting our offense together," said Coach Fazio when making the announcement of Moore's new position. "He shows great leadership abilities and is well respected not only by his fellow coaches but by every player on our football squad."

Moore came to Pitt after turning in one of the most successful high school coaching careers in Western Pennsylvania. In 17 years on the high school level, he compiled a 119-32-4 record. His 1974-75 Upper St. Clair squads were both co-champions in the WPIAL. In addition, his Upper St. Clair teams did not lose a game in their last 36 contests and were only tied twice.

After graduating from Schenley High School, located just a few blocks from the Pitt campus, Moore attended Penn State and graduated in 1958. He received his Master's Degree in Counseling from Gannon College.

Bob Junko

Defensive Coordinator
Linebackers

Bob Junko will have the responsibility of continuing the defensive tradition that has been established at Pitt over the past five years. A native of Washington, PA, Junko has proved that he has the capabilities for such a task. He has been a defensive coordinator, first at Tulsa then at Texas Christian University, the past eight years.

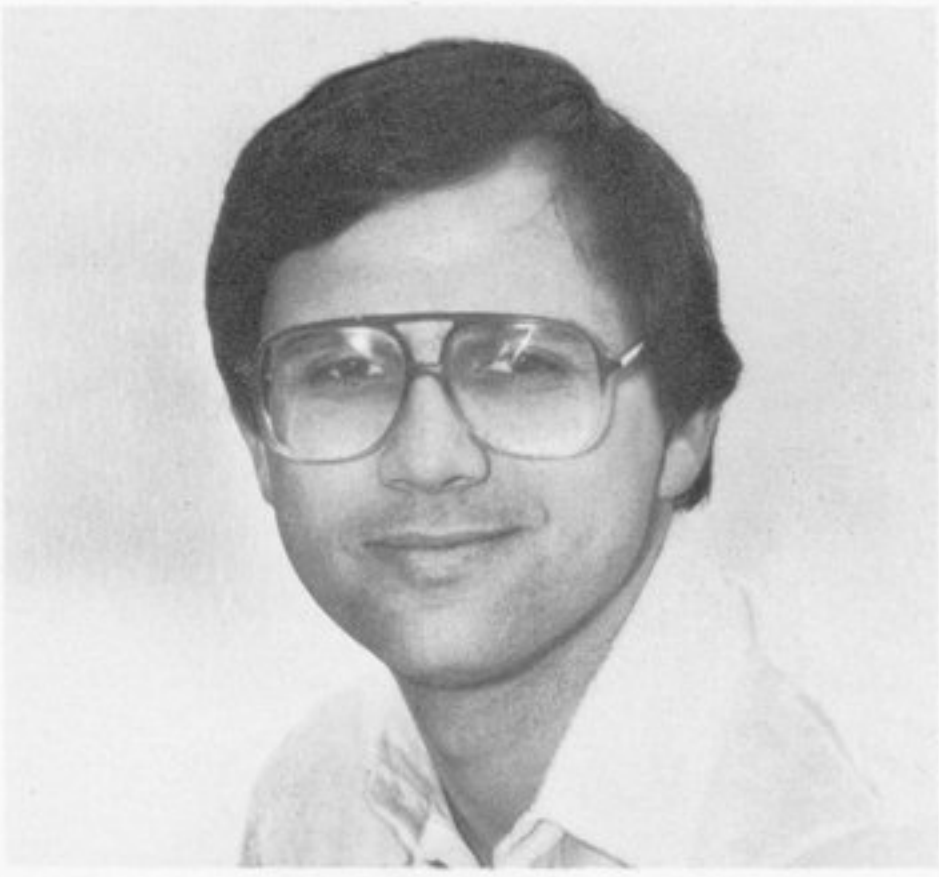
He has helped produce some pretty good talent, the likes of Al Humphrey at Tulsa in 1974 and Darell Patterson at TCU in 1978, both of whom were All-Americas. After graduating from Tulsa in 1968, Junko was a graduate assistant and freshman coach before taking the linebacking corps from 1970 to 1974. He served as defensive coordinator at his alma mater during the '75 and '76 seasons before moving on to TCU in the same capacity. His duties at TCU also included assistant head coach from 1979-1982.

"Bob Junko proved himself as a defensive coordinator at Tulsa and TCU, and he has an excellent reputation," said Coach Fazio. "He has coached against some outstanding football teams in the Southwest Conference. Bob is very energetic; he's a good recruiter and good teacher. He also has a fine rapport with his players."

While at nearby Trinity High School, Junko earned All-State and All-WPIAL honors and was selected for the Big 33 game. He earned his Master's Degree in History Education in 1971 from Tulsa. He was an All-Conference performer at Tulsa in 1966 and 1967 and attained honorable mention All-America status in 1967. Junko also played in the '65 Bluebonnet Bowl.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Tulsa, graduate assistant 1968, freshman coach 1969, linebacker coach 1970-74, defensive coordinator 1975-76; Texas Christian University, defensive coordinator 1977-82, assistant head coach 1979-82.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/4/46. Hometown: Washington, PA. Alma Mater: Tulsa '68. Married to the former Judy Goodell and the father of Jeff (11), Mike (9), and Jay (3).



Anthony "Dino" Folino

Defensive Backs

In his third season on the staff, Dino Folino is blessed with probably as much talent under his leadership as anybody on the Pitt staff. Returning starters Tom Flynn and Troy Hill should help him continue the fine job he has done over the past two years. He also was responsible for developing Tim Lewis, who graduated last year and was a first-round pick in the NFL draft.

A 1967 graduate of Central Catholic High School, he played quarterback and won All-Catholic honors in 1966 before heading to Villanova, where he continued his playing career. Folino later served as defensive coordinator at Central Catholic.

Although he is young, Folino has a wealth of coaching experience at the college level. He came to Pitt from the University of Cincinnati where he spent five years as a defensive backfield coach. He previously coached at the University of New Hampshire and was a graduate assistant at Ohio State under the legendary Woody Hayes. He has been associated with teams which have gone to the Rose, Sugar, and Cotton Bowls.

"Dino has been with us now for three years and he did an outstanding job recruiting last season," said Coach Fazio. "He's a bright young man and does an excellent job with the secondary."

A native of Pittsburgh, Folino is the father of five children, the youngest of whom is Ellen, who was born in Dallas while the Panthers were preparing for last season's Cotton Bowl.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Bishop Kendrick High School, Norristown, PA, 1971-72, defensive coordinator; Central Catholic High School, defensive coordinator, 1972-74. COLLEGE — Ohio State University, 1974-76, graduate assistant; University of New Hampshire, 1976, defensive backfield coach; University of Cincinnati, 1976-80, defensive backfield coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION — Date of Birth: 9/19/49. Alma Mater: Villanova University '71. Married to the former Anita Bigatel and the father of five children — Anthony (11), Alyse (10), Ann (7), Charles (3), and Ellen (1).

Kent Schoolfield

Wide Receivers

Kent Schoolfield comes to Pitt from Temple University after earning the reputation as a fine receiver coach when he was at New Mexico State and Florida State.

Prior to his one-year stay at New Mexico State, he coached under Bobby Bowden for five and one-half years and helped lead the Seminoles to two Orange Bowl appearances and a Tangerine Bowl bid.

"Kent came to us with an excellent background," said Coach Fazio. "He's an outstanding teacher and a tough disciplinarian. He coached some outstanding receivers while he was at Florida State, and he is a dedicated and hardworking recruiter."

A native of Columbus, OH, Schoolfield was a fine collegiate athlete. He played wide receiver and ran track at his alma mater, Florida A&M, where he was All-Conference and played in the Lions All-American Game. A 1970 graduate of Florida A&M, he received his Master's Degree in Education from the same institution.

Schoolfield attended East High School in Columbus where he lettered in football, basketball, and track. After graduating from college, he was drafted by the Boston Patriots, and he began his coaching career at Miami Central High School as an assistant coach.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Miami Central High School 1974-76, assistant coach. COLLEGE — Florida A&M, 1973-74, graduate assistant; Florida State, 1976-81, wide receiver and tight end coach; New Mexico State, 1982, wide receiver, tight end, and quarterback coach; Temple 1983, receiver coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION — Date of Birth 9/3/46. Alma Mater: Florida A&M '70. Married to the former Charlene Anderson and father of Kent Jr. (4).

Gerry Soloman

Defensive Ends

Gerry Soloman begins his first year as a member of the Pitt staff. He comes to the Panthers after having served four years as the linebacker coach at Bowling Green University.

"Gerry Soloman is a very energetic, very enthusiastic young man," said Coach Fazio. "He spent the last four years at Bowling Green and will do an excellent job with the defensive ends."

Soloman was a two-year starter and co-captain as a senior at Bucknell University. He graduated from there in 1973 and went on to earn his Master's Degree in Educational Administration in 1975. As a junior, he made honorable mention All-East and was a three-year letterman for the Bisons.

A graduate of Valley High School in nearby New Kensington, PA, Soloman was an All-WPIAL and All-State linebacker, as he earned three football letters and three basketball letters.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater and since that time, he has coached at Central Catholic High School in Pittsburgh, Muskingum College, and Carnegie-Mellon University. While at Muskingum, Carnegie-Mellon, and Bowling Green, Soloman was associated with a conference champion team.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Central Catholic High School, 1976-78, assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. COLLEGE — Bucknell University, 1973-75, graduate assistant; Muskingum College, 1975-76, linebacker and defensive end coach; Carnegie-Mellon University, 1978-79, defensive line coach; Bowling Green State University, 1979-82, linebacker coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 3/21/51. Hometown: Arnold, PA. Alma Mater: Bucknell '73. Married to the former Adele DeBartolo and father of Joseph (7) and Jennifer (5).

Don Thompson

Defensive Line

Don Thompson begins his second season as a member of the Pitt staff after having coached NFL draft pick Dave Puzzuoli and All-America Bill Maas last season. He stepped right in last year and did a fine job in his first season with the Panthers.

Thompson came to Pitt from the University of Connecticut where he coached the defensive ends and linebackers from 1976 to 1981. Before that period, he was a part-time coach at UConn with the same responsibilities.

"Don is a very aggressive, very demanding young football coach," said Coach Fazio. "He's been with us a year now, and he did an outstanding job with Dave Puzzuoli and J.C. Pelusi of last year's class."

Thompson is a graduate of Bogalusa High School in Louisiana where he was a first-team All-State and All-District ballplayer before heading north to the University of Connecticut. At UConn he received his Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration and his Master's in Education. As a linebacker for the Huskies, he earned All-Yankee and All-East honors in 1974 and captained the team while receiving the MVP and Outstanding Senior awards.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Connecticut, 1975, defensive end and linebacker coach, part-time; University of Connecticut, 1976-81, defensive end and linebacker coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 10/23/53. Hometown: Bogalusa, LA. Alma Mater: Connecticut '75. Married to the former Gilda Packard and father of Don Jr. (12) and Amie (7).

Ron Turner

Quarterbacks

Ron Turner takes over the job of coaching the quarterbacks as he begins his first season as a member of the Panther staff. He has shown in the past that he has a knack for developing young talent, and his addition to the staff will be invaluable this year.

Turner comes to Pitt from Northwestern University where he spent two years coaching quarterbacks and receivers. Prior to his position at Northwestern, he coached the running backs and receivers at Arizona for three seasons, and before that he was a graduate assistant at the University of the Pacific for one year.

"Ron is one of the bright, young quarterback coaches in the country," said Coach Fazio. "He developed two outstanding freshman quarterbacks at Northwestern. He's an excellent teacher and has a good understanding of the passing game. We're very impressed with his credentials. Looking at the freshman quarterback who threw for 2,800 yards at Northwestern, Ron developed an unproven talent."

Turner coached freshman All-America quarterback Sandy Schwab at Northwestern. Schwab completed 57% of his passes and tossed the ball for 2,800 yards.

A 1977 graduate of the University of the Pacific, Turner was a two-year letterman at wide receiver and received his Bachelor's Degree in Physical Education.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of the Pacific, 1977, graduate assistant; University of Arizona, 1978-80, wide receiver and running back coach; Northwestern University, 1981-82, quarterback and wide receiver coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 12/5/53. Hometown: Martinez, CA. Alma Mater: University of the Pacific '77. Married to the former Wendy Morgan.

Andy Urbanic

Running Backs

Andy Urbanic enters his third year as the offensive backfield coach for the Pitt staff. He is no stranger to the western Pennsylvania region, having coached high school football in the area for 19 years. Before coming to Pitt, he had been at Penn Hills High School in suburban Pittsburgh for 11 years and led his teams to eight state championships while earning Coach-of-the-Year honors five times.

Besides his tenure at Penn Hills, Urbanic gained head coaching experience at Wheeling Central Catholic High School, Triadelphia High School, and Dillonvale (OH) High School.

Coach Fazio said, "Andy has been with us for three seasons and has done a fine job. Bryan Thomas owes a lot of his success to Andy's tough, spartan-like practice sessions. Andy has a great rapport with his players and is an outstanding recruiter."

Urbanic had previously been involved with collegiate athletics at Bethany College where he served as assistant football coach, head swimming coach, and assistant track coach.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Dillonvale High School, 1959-62, head football coach, head basketball coach, and assistant basketball coach; Triadelphia High School, 1962, head football coach and assistant track coach; Wheeling Central Catholic High School, 1964-68, head football coach; Penn Hills High School, 1969-80, head football coach. COLLEGE — Bethany College, 1963, assistant football coach, head swimming coach, and assistant track coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 9/7/37. Alma Mater: Scott Township High School; Bethany College, undergraduate; West Virginia University, graduate. Married to the former Dorothy Gross and father of Andrea Lynn (15) and Stacy Ann (8).

Carmen Grosso

Tight Ends

A graduate of South Hills Catholic High School (now Seton-LaSalle), Carmen Grosso begins his first year as a member of the Pitt staff after having served as a part-time assistant coach at Miami for the past three years.

Born in Oakland's Magee Hospital, Grosso earned his Bachelor's Degree in Physical Education at the University of Miami and his Master's from Barry College in Miami, FL. He had been a high school coach and athletic administrator in the Miami area for 12 years before coming to Pitt. As athletic director, assistant football coach, and then head football coach, Grosso was Dade County's Coach-of-the-Year in 1976 when he led his Immaculata LaSalle team to a 9-3 mark and conference and district championships. He has also served in similar capacities at Miami's Deerborne High School and Coral Gables High School, where he also was the head soccer coach. While at LaSalle, Grosso coached two student-athletes who went on to play football and graduate from Carnegie-Mellon University.

Grosso joined the Miami staff in 1979 and had the opportunity to work with Fred Marion, a Kodak All-America who now plays with the New England Patriots. He has also worked with a pro scouting combine.

"Carmen came to us from Miami," said Coach Fazio. "He brings with him a tough, disciplinarian-type attitude. He's a fine teacher and will do a good job with the tight ends."

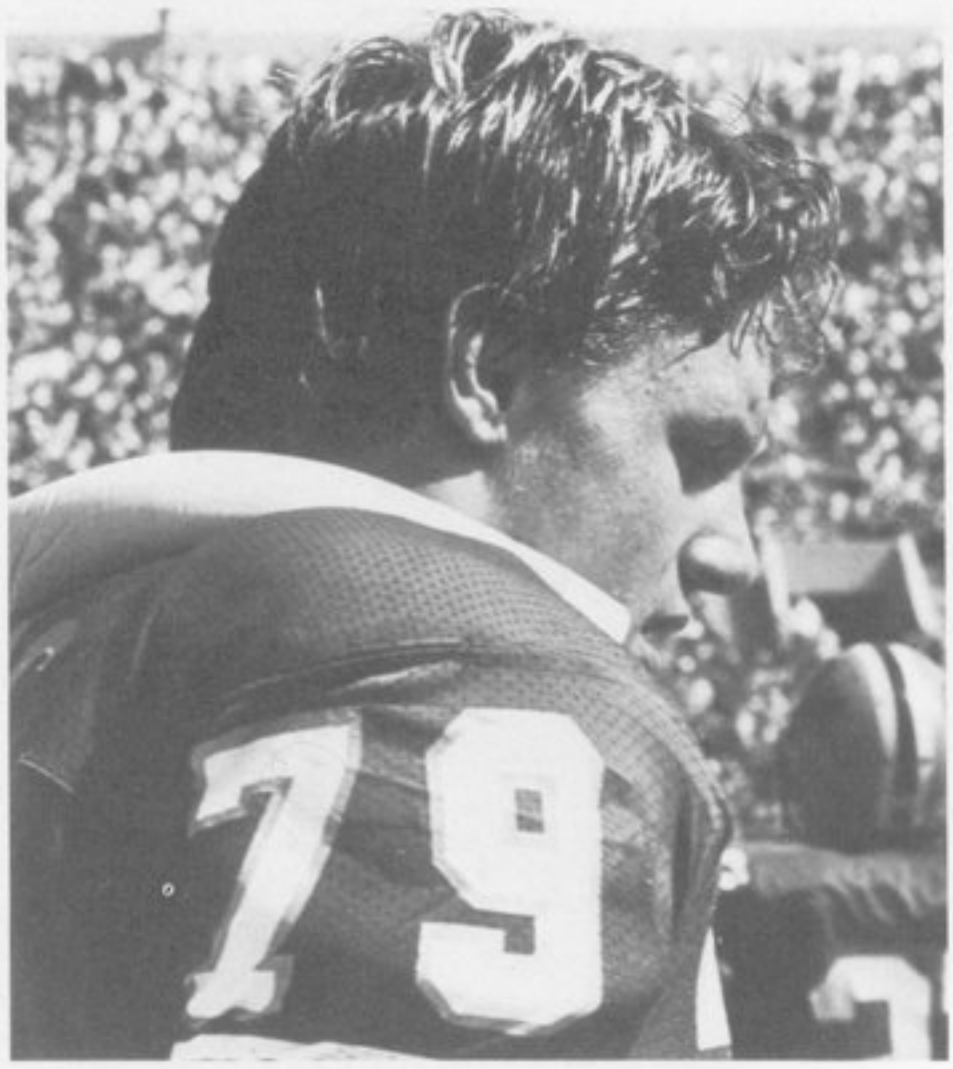
PANTHERS WILL ANSWER IN '83

It is a program rich with tradition, and 1983 marks the 10th anniversary of the modern era of Pitt's winning ways on the football field. It was 10 years ago this season that Johnny Majors arrived on the Pitt campus to rekindle the fires of winning football. The names and faces have changed, but the tradition continues. Panther head coach Foge Fazio enters his second season at the helm, having led his 1982 team to a 9-3 record and a Cotton Bowl bid. Gone are 24 seniors (13½ starters) who compiled a 42-6 mark in their four years in a Panther uniform. Twenty-seven lettermen (8½ starters) return with the hope that they will be able to carry on the tradition of their predecessors.

Nine of last year's seniors were selected in the spring NFL draft, during which three Panthers — Jimbo Covert, Tim Lewis, and Dan Marino — were picked in the first round. Those figures bear a striking resemblance to the numbers produced by the 1980 Pitt team when that 11-1 ballclub had 12 players drafted, including Hugh Green, Mark May, and Randy McMillan in the first round. People worried over the depletion of the ranks then, much the same way they are wondering about what '83 may bring. Well, 1981 was not too shabby a year for the Panthers as Pitt went 11-1, including the 24-20 thriller over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl.

Just like 1981, there are questions. There are holes to be filled. There is inexperience. And the schedule is as tough, if not tougher, than a year ago. But there is quiet, determined optimism. And it is possible that the question marks could become resounding answers. Only time will tell for Fazio and his Pitt Panthers.

Of course, the biggest question that faces Fazio is who will be calling the offensive signals when Pitt travels to Tennessee on September 3rd to open the season. With the graduation of Dan Marino, the Panthers' all-time leading passer, the quarterback position is up for grabs. Waiting for the nod are sophomore Chris Jelic, a 5-11, 185-pound all-around athlete, and junior John Cummings, who at 6-2 and 190 has the size and the arm to get the job done. The two other candidates for the position are sophomore John Congemi and freshman Matt Daniels. Spring practice gave Fazio and his staff a few of the clues they were looking for in order to find the answer.



There's no question that junior All-America tackle Bill Fralic is a serious contender for the Outland and Lombardi Trophies . . .

"Both Chris Jelic and John Cummings had outstanding scrimmages," said Fazio. "Both showed the leadership qualities that we're looking for. John Congemi came on very strong at the end. All three of the young men can run the ball well and run the option well. Matt Daniels is a young, inexperienced guy who is very strong and very aggressive. Because of this situation, we were able to move Tom Flynn back to free safety and he'll be our insurance policy."

Flynn, a senior All-America candidate at free safety, took a shot at the quarterback job in the spring; however, with the development of the other potential QBs, Fazio was able to move the tri-captain back to the spot where he has earned acclaim the past three seasons.

One of Fazio's spring practice goals was to build an offense around the available personnel. After reflecting on the spring drills, he feels this goal was met. The offensive look of the Panthers will take on a different countenance this season, as Fazio and offensive coordinator Joe Moore will employ the option game and sprint-out passes in their package. It should be quite a change after watching Marino set passing and offensive records over the previous four years.

It goes without saying that the forward pass will be a prominent part of the Pitt attack. The reason can be found in the person of All-America flanker prospect Dwight Collins, who will wind up his spectacular career this year. Collins enters his senior season within long-bomb range of several Panther career offensive marks, including career touchdown receptions and receiving yardage.

Senior tailback Joe McCall and junior fullback Marlon McIntyre provide experience in the backfield. McCall lived up to his nickname, "Do It All," last year as he filled in at both running back spots and gained 647 yards rushing and receiving. He will be the man expected to fill the void left by Bryan Thomas' graduation. Senior Mike Boyd and sophomore Darnell Stone saw limited duty last year but will provide more-than-adequate backup. Senior Marc Bailey, coming off an injury a year ago, will provide relief for McIntyre, who gained 246 yards up the middle last season. The depth in the backfield will undoubtedly prove advantageous to the Panthers in '83.

Because of inexperience, the offensive line is a big area of concern for the Pitt coaches. However, that line will have the great equalizer — junior Bill Fralic. Fralic, an All-America in 1982, has gained the reputation of being the premier lineman in the country in just two years of college ball. He has been named to several preseason All-America teams, including Playboy magazine's, and is a legitimate candidate for the Outland and Lombardi Trophies. The other experienced lineman is tri-captain senior center Jim Sweeney, whom Moore feels is one of the finest.

While the left tackle and center positions are in proven hands, the other three positions will be handled by untested players — sophomore Mike Dorundo (left guard); senior Mike Dahl (right guard), one of the three winners of last spring's most improved player award; and junior Greg Christy (right tackle), a two-year letterman who missed all of last season with a knee injury. Heading into fall camp, sophomores Tim Jones, Bob Brown, John Rees, and Tony Brown will all be counted on in the trenches, while senior Tony Magnelli, a three-year letterman, will back up Sweeney in the middle.

Junior Bill Wallace inherits the split end position from Julius Dawkins, the school's all-time career touchdown receiver. While Collins is known for his game-breaking speed. Wallace is a steady, precise-pattern-running wideout with good hands. Backing up Collins will be Matt Stennett, a former Parade All-America from nearby Shaler High School who moved to flanker as a result of the depth at tailback.

The tight end spot has been cause for concern. Junior Clint Wilson returns after starting most of last season when John Brown went down with a knee injury.

"Clint has made great strides and he's gotten a lot bigger," noted Fazio. "Bob Lawson (a sophomore) and Pat Schipani (a redshirt freshman) are both pushing him. The thing is that there is a lot of competition at that position, and that alone should help."

Competition is what the Panther defense has been known to give opposing offenses. It's never been easy to move the ball versus Pittsburgh, and with tradition in its favor, this year's "D" could continue in the line of the defenses of the recent past.

With Flynn back at free safety, the Pitt defense has the chance to carry on the legacy of tough, hard-nosed defense — a reputation that is well-earned considering the Panthers are ranked Number One by the NCAA in rushing and total defense over the past five years.

Flynn and All-America tackle Bill Maas lead the way for the '83 edition. There are just two other starters returning from last year's third-ranked defense: three-year letterman and tri-captain Troy Hill, who led the team with three interceptions last season, at left cornerback and senior Al Wenglikowski, another three-year letter-winner and steady performer, at left end. Sophomores Bob Buczkowski (left tackle) and Bob Schilken (middle guard) must fill the shoes of Dave Puzzuoli and J.C. Pelusi, respectively. Buczkowski and Schilken, a former Parade All-America, were both highly touted coming out of high school, and their transition to being starting players should be a smooth one.

Both linebackers — juniors Caesar Aldisert and Troy Benson — have gained experience as backup players. Aldisert was in on 28 tackles a year ago and intercepted a pass, while Benson, another winner of last spring's most improved player award, made 16 stops with an interception. The two have played as a pair since their arrival at Pitt and could form one of the best linebacking tandems in recent memory.

Junior Chris Doleman will hold down the right end position. At 6-6, 220 pounds, Doleman has the quickness and range to become a dominating player. Two years ago he was a freshman All-America. Doleman made 28 tackles last season and added five sacks and an interception, as he displayed his ability to either rush the passer or drop back in pass coverage.

Senior Ray Weatherspoon will get the nod at strong safety where he is known for his willingness to come up and make the big hit against the run. He is probably the most physical of the defensive backs. Bill Callahan, a sophomore who lettered at fullback last year, has switched to the defensive backfield and will provide solid relief for Weatherspoon. Junior Melvin Dean, the other most improved player during spring practice, will man the right corner. Dean saw action in '82 as a backup player and a special teams performer.

Placekicker Eric Schubert, who turned in a nine-for-nine PAT effort against Louisville a year ago, is back — as is punter Tony Recchia. "Eric should be greatly improved in all placement kicking and, hopefully, Tony Recchia will be more consistent in the punting game. We have probably one of the finest kickoff men in the country in Eric," said Fazio.

After a year under his belt, Fazio is hoping to improve on last year's 9-3 mark. Nobody knows if indeed the question marks will become solid answers or not, but Fazio does know what kind of club he would like to field.

"I would like to have a team that is very aggressive, that enjoys football, not only on game day, but enjoys football from the time they get here, all the way through practices and on to game day itself. I'd like a team that never gives up, a team that will be exciting and make things happen — both defensively and offensively. I don't want a team that is going to sit there waiting for things to happen, hoping that somebody's going to make a big play.

"Hopefully, our defense will be reckless and aggressive enough to hold us in the game. I'd like to see the offense with a quarterback playing the part of runner as well as throwing the ball, along with people like Dwight Collins coming back who will help us be quite exciting."

Yes, there are questions, and 1983 will bring the answers.

NOTES ON THE 1983 PANTHERS

Foge Fazio's initial campaign as the 29th head coach in Pitt football history tied him for the most wins by a first-year coach since the Panthers took to the gridiron in 1890. Fazio's nine wins equalled the number of his predecessor, Jackie Sherrill, who posted a 9-2-1 record in 1977, and John Moorhead, who recorded a 9-1 mark in 1907, his only season at the Panther helm.

* * * *

The Panthers will be out for their 11th consecutive winning season in 1983. Pitt had eight straight winning years from 1904-1911 and 27 consecutive from 1913-1939 under "Pop" Warner, Jock Sutherland, and Charles Bowser. Since 1973, the year that marked the beginning of the modern era in Pitt's winning tradition, the Panthers are 92-25-2 (.773), 43-9 at home (.827) and 43-15-2 on the road (.717). They have averaged 9.2 victories a season since 1973. Pitt football teams have recorded an overall record of 509-321-36.

* * * *

Pitt has now won eight or more games in eight straight seasons, a record in Panther football history. That mark includes the 33 victories from 1979-1981. The Panthers have recorded a Top 10 ranking (A.P. or U.P.I.) six of the last seven years.

* * * *

Pitt's success among the nation's top teams is evident in its record over the last seven years. In that time the Panthers have the best mark in the country with a 71-12-1 record (including bowl games). Alabama is second (69-13-1), B.Y.U. is third (69-17), Southern Cal is fourth (67-14-2), and Oklahoma is fifth (65-16-2).

* * * *

According to the NCAA statistics, which do not include bowl games, the Panthers have the third best winning percentage in the country over the past five years with a 47-8 mark (.855). Georgia is first at 47-7-1 (.864) and Nebraska is second 48-8 (.857). Pitt has won 41 of its last 46 ballgames.

* * * *

The Panthers have been bowl-bound for nine of the last ten years beginning in 1973 with the Fiesta Bowl (1975-Sun Bowl, 1976-Sugar Bowl, 1977-Gator Bowl, 1978-Tangerine Bowl, 1979-Fiesta Bowl, 1980-Gator Bowl, 1981-Sugar Bowl, 1982-Cotton Bowl). The Panthers have won six of their last eight bowl games.

* * * *

Pitt's defense has finished in the top five in the country in each of the past four years. Last season, the Panthers were fifth in rushing defense (93.5 yards/game), third in scoring defense (12.0 points/game), and third in total defense (243.7 yards/game). In 1980 and 1981, under the direction of then defensive coordinator Foge Fazio, Pitt was ranked first in both rushing and total defense. In 1981 Pitt allowed 62.4 yards per game on the ground and 224.8 yards/game overall. The 1980 marks were 55.3 yards/game rushing and 205.5 yards total. In 1979 the Pitt defense was seventh in the nation versus the run at 106.5 yards/game and fourth in total defense with an average of 210.5 yards allowed.

* * * *

The NCAA statistics have the Pitt defense ranked number one in total defense and rushing defense over the five-year period from 1978-1982. During that time, the Panthers have given up an average of 225.9 yards/game, which is almost 20 yards better than second-ranked Texas (244.8 yards/game). Pitt's rushing defense over the past five years has allowed an average of 88.2 yards/game. Southern Cal is second at 108.8 yards/game. The Panthers are the only team in the country to give up an average of less than 100 yards/game on the ground since 1978. Also, Pitt is third in scoring defense over that time; Nebraska is first, giving up 11.5 points/game, Alabama is second (11.87 points/game), followed by Pitt (11.93). The Panthers and the Crimson Tide have played the same number of games the past five years, and Pitt has given up just three more points than Alabama.

* * * *

Pitt has had at least one first-team All-America selection each of the last 10 years starting in 1973 (Tony Dorsett, 1973; Dorsett and Gary Burley, 1974; Dorsett, 1975; Dorsett and Al Romano 1976; Matt Cavanaugh, Randy Holloway, Bob Jury, and Tom Brzoza, 1977; Hugh Green and Gordon Jones, 1978; Green, 1979; Green and Mark May, 1980; Dan Marino, Sal Sunseri, Jimbo Covert, and Julius Dawkins, 1981; and Covert, Bill Fralic, and Bill Maas, 1982).

* * * *

Pitt lost quite a few veteran players with the conclusion of the 1982 season. The Panthers will attempt to replace 11 players who were four-year lettermen and five performers who lettered three years.

* * *

In 1982 Pitt broke nine school records. Of course, quarterback Dan Marino rewrote virtually all the Panther passing marks, while also breaking Tony Dorsett's career total offense record. Julius Dawkins set the career touchdown reception record with 23, a mark that will undoubtedly be tested with the return of senior flanker Dwight Collins. Eric Schubert's nine-for-nine PAT effort against Louisville set two records.

* * * *

Dwight Collins, who has caught 19 TD passes in this career, needs five more to put his name in the school record books in that category. Collins also enters his senior year in second place on Pitt's all-time receiving yardage list. Gordon Jones is atop the list with 2,230 yards, while Collins is just 399 yards behind at 1,831. Collins is also 14th on Pitt's all-time scoring list with 114 points.

* * * *

After spending much of the 1982 season as a more than adequate fill-in at fullback and tailback behind Bryan Thomas, Joe McCall will be counted on in 1983 to lead the Panther rushing attack. McCall averaged six yards every time he touched the ball last year. He gained 385 yards rushing on 85 carries and added 260 yards on 22 receptions. Against Army last year, he ground out 129 yards rushing.

* * * *

The year 1982 marked the highest attendance average ever for Pitt football. In six home dates the Panthers averaged 54,818 fans, which broke the mark of 50,860 set in 1981. Four of the six games were sellouts, including the North Carolina game at Three Rivers Stadium.

A measure of the difficulty of the 1982 slate is that five of Pitt's opponents went on to post-season bowl games. Things don't get any easier in 1983 — five of this year's opponents played in '82 bowl games. Tennessee lost to Iowa in the Peach Bowl, 28-22; Maryland lost to Washington in the Aloha Bowl, 21-20; Florida State beat West Virginia in the Gator Bowl, 31-12; and Penn State beat Georgia in the Sugar Bowl, 27-23. Three of those opponents — Tennessee, Maryland, and West Virginia — will be road games for the Panthers in 1983.

Game Notes: There couldn't be a better game to kick off Pitt's 10th anniversary of the Renaissance of the Panther football program . . . Vols head coach Johnny Majors was responsible for the start of the modern era of Pitt's winning tradition when he arrived here in 1973 and led Pitt to a 6-5-1 mark, its first winning season in 10 years, and a Fiesta Bowl bid . . . Panther head man Foge Fazio brings Pitt into the 10th anniversary on the heels of a very successful first campaign, as the winning ways continue . . . the Vols and Panthers have played just one other time — a 30-6 Pitt win in 1980 at Knoxville . . . the 91,249-seat Neyland Stadium will be the largest the Panthers play in this year . . . Panther tailback Joe McCall, a freshman in 1980, carried the ball 18 times for 89 yards and a touchdown against the Vols . . .Rick Trocano, who was starting his first game in a year at the quarterback position, passed for 237 yards and rushed for 76 more . . . Majors has 20 lettermen (five starters) returning on offense and 19 (seven starters) on defense from last year's 6-5-1 club that lost to Iowa, 28-22, in the Peach Bowl . . . Top returners for the Vols include kicker Fuad Reveiz, All-SEC last year, who hit on 27 of 31 field goal attempts, including 8-10 over 50 yards and 13-17 over 40 yards . . . Tennessee punter Jimmy Colquitt, who averaged 46.9 yds/kick last season, is the cousin of Pittsburgh Steeler Craig Colquitt . . . Vol tailback Chuck Coleman had three 100-yard days last year, including a 139-yard output against Alabama, as he gained a team-high 600 markers for the season.

Game Notes: Pitt has won the last seven games of this traditional series, which dates back to 1895 . . . WVU is Pitt's second-oldest opponent — Penn State is the oldest . . . last year's Panther win, a 16-13 beauty, was probably the most exciting victory of the season . . . the Panthers trailed 13-0 with 14 minutes left in the game before Dan Marino directed drives of 83 and 48 yards to give Pitt the win . . . Bill Maas sacked WVU quarterback Jeff Hostetler in the end zone for the final two Panther points as 57,250 fans looked on . . . Marino totaled 200 yards offense to move past Tony Dorsett as Pitt's all-time career total offense leader . . . Dwight Collins caught five passes for 62 yards . . . after the loss to Pitt in the fourth game of the year, the 'Eers lost just two more games the rest of the season — to Penn State and to Florida State in the Gator Bowl . . . WVU has now appeared in two straight bowl games — the Peach and Gator Bowls — the only time in WVU history that the Mountaineers have performed such a feat . . . the last time Pitt visited Mountaineer Field was 1981 when backup QB Danny Daniels led the Panthers to a 17-0 win, as Pitt did not complete a pass the entire game . . . WVU is almost certain to complete a pass this year as Hostetler, who passed for 1,798 yards and 10 TDs last year, and a deep corps of receivers return .

Game Notes: After picking up a 37-17 win last year in monsoon-like conditions in Tallahassee, the Panthers have gained a 4-3 advantage in the series, which began in 1971 . . . the last three games have been won by lopsided margins . . . FSU won big in 1980, while Pitt has been victorious by big scores the last two seasons . . . none of the last three games has been decided by less than two touchdowns . . . both Pitt and FSU have witnessed a resurgence in their programs over the last ten years . . . after regular season-ending losses to LSU and Florida, the Seminoles came on to take a big 31-12 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl to finish with a 1982 slate of 9-3 . . . FSU head coach Bobby Bowden was the mentor at WVU the last time the Mountaineers defeated Pitt in 1975 . . . on Bowden's staff is Mike Kruczek, former Steeler QB . . . in last year's game fullback Marlon McIntyre had one of his finest days as a Panther as he rushed for 61 yards and scored on runs of three and four yards . . . of the 44 lettermen returning for Bowden, 15 (seven on offense, eight on defense) were starters . . . included among those is tailback Greg Allen, who as a freshman set an NCAA single-game rushing record for rookies as he gained 322 yards on 32 carries vs. Western Carolina . . . in that game he also returned a kickoff 95 yards for 417 all-purpose yards in one game, another NCAA mark.

Pitt holds a 15-11-2 edge in the series which began in 1912 . . . in the last meeting in 1979, the Panthers prevailed, 24-7, as freshman quarterback Dan Marino came off the bench to complete 22 of 30 passes for 227 yards and two scores . . . the series has been a close one the past eight years, with Pitt winning three of the five games . . . Navy head coach Gary Tranquill took over the reins last year from George Welsh and led his team to a 6-5 finish, including an opening-game win over Welsh's Virginia team . . . Tranquill returns six starters to both his offense and defense . . . the last time the Panthers visited Annapolis was in 1978 when the Middies picked up a 21-11 win, as Pitt started four drives inside the Navy 50-yard line and came away without a point . . . also in that game, Navy held the Panthers to a total of -28 yards rushing, including sacks, as Pitt was forced to throw the ball 52 times . . . Navy is one of nine independents on the Pitt schedule.

Game Notes: Having won the last ten games of the series, the Panthers now have a 23-13-2 edge overall . . . the Pitt-Syracuse battle has been an annual event since 1955 . . . the Orangemen last picked up a win back in 1972 . . . the Panthers have not had an easy time of it the past two years . . . in 1981 Pitt had to overcome a 10-0 first quarter deficit to pull out a 23-10 win, while the Orange were particularly tough last year in the Carrier Dome, as Pitt struggled to a 14-0 victory . . . coach Dick MacPherson started three different quarterbacks last season as his team went 2-9 . . . Panther flanker Dwight Collins is averaging a touchdown a game in three appearances vs. the Orange . . . although the Pitt defense gave up just 12.0 pts/game last year, the Orangemen were the Panthers' only shutout victims . . . Syracuse had just 140 yards total offense last year, as Pitt limited the Orange to 71 yards on the ground and 69 in the air . . . Julius Dawkins scored on a two-yard pass from Dan Marino, and Joe McCall dove over from one yard out . . . defensively, Syracuse is set heading into the '83 campaign as eight starters return . . . Syracuse must play Penn State and Pitt back-to-back; however, the Orange have an open date the week before they meet the Panthers.

ND is the leader in that category among college football powers, while the Panthers rank sixth . . . the Irish lead the series, 31-13-1, which began in 1909 . . . for the second year in-a-row, ND must play Pitt and Penn State back-to-back . . . the last time Pitt played at South Bend was in 1978 when quarterback Joe Montana led the Irish to a come-from-behind 26-17 win on regional ABC-TV . . . last year's game was a heartbreaker for the Panthers . . . entering the game 7-0, Pitt carried a 13-10 lead into the fourth quarter, but the Irish came back to score on a 54-yard flea-flicker to little Joe Howard . . . running back Allen Pinkett added two more scores on runs of 76 and seven yards . . . the loss of Tom Flynn, who injured his foot, proved to be a crucial blow to Pitt . . . in that game, quarterback Dan Marino turned in one of his finest performances, as he threw for 314 yards on a 26 for 42 effort . . . Dwight Collins caught eight of Marino's passes for 109 yards . . . Gerry Faust enters his third year as Irish head coach with an overall mark of 11-10-1 . . . of Faust's 36 returning lettermen, six started on offense and seven were defensive starters .

Game Notes: This series has been a continuous one since 1935 . . . overall, the Nittany Lions are Pitt's oldest rivals, and this game annually represents a battle for supremacy in the East, as well as a fight for top national rankings . . . the series started in 1893 and Penn State holds a 41-38-3 edge over the Panthers . . . this game always draws national attention, as the last nine games have been telecast . . . for 24 of the last 25 years Pitt has closed out its regular season with this game . . . four of the last five games of the series have been played at Beaver Stadium . . . the last time the Lions visited Pitt Stadium was in 1981 when Pitt busted out to a 14-0 first quarter lead, but Penn State came back to score the next 48 points . . . last year, the Panthers led 7-3 at the half, but Jackson scored on a 31-yard pass and Nick Gancitano kicked three second-half field goals to lead PSU to a 19-10 win . . . in that game Pitt's Bryan Thomas and Dan Marino had more productive days than their Lion counterparts, Curt Warner and Todd Blackledge, as Thomas ran for 143 yards on 31 carries and Marino connected on 18 of 32 passes for 193 yards . . . Panther Dwight Collins caught six of Marino's passes for 71 yards . . . Marino, Warner, and Blackledge were all first round picks in the NFL's draft last spring . . . both Pitt and Penn State have been to bowl games now for eight consecutive years . . . PSU, which won last year's National Championship, the first-ever for Joe Paterno and the Lions, was 11-1 . . . Paterno returns 40 lettermen, including four starters on offense and five on defense . . . flanker Kenny Jackson, who is from the same hometown (South River, NJ) as Pitt's Troy Hill, enters his senior year at PSU having caught 81 passes for 1,523 yards and 18 TDs .

A TRADITION IN TRAVEL

The University of Pittsburgh football team was a pioneer in air travel for college athletic teams. The 1939 Panther football squad was the first team ever to travel across country by air, when the squad travelled to the University of Washington.

The total party of 41 used two DC-3s. Departure was Wednesday morning with stops in Chicago, Madison, and an overnight stay in Minneapolis. Thursday had stops in Fargo, Billings, and an overnight stay at Missoula, Montana. Friday had a stop in Spokane and a 6:30 PM arrival at Seattle.

The team won the game but could not begin the return trip until Monday because of poor weather, since TWA had not flown over the Rockies and they flew visually. The return route was San Francisco, Los Angeles, Albuquerque, Amarillo, Kansas City, Columbus, and Pittsburgh, finally, at 3:00 AM Tuesday.

Pittsburgh Press sports writer Chester Smith, who covered the game, returned home by train and beat the team back to Pittsburgh.

The Panthers were also the first team to travel by jet, booking space in the rear of a plane to Los Angeles in 1959 for a game against USC.

Luckily, for the Panthers, air travel has improved vastly since that original trip in 1939.

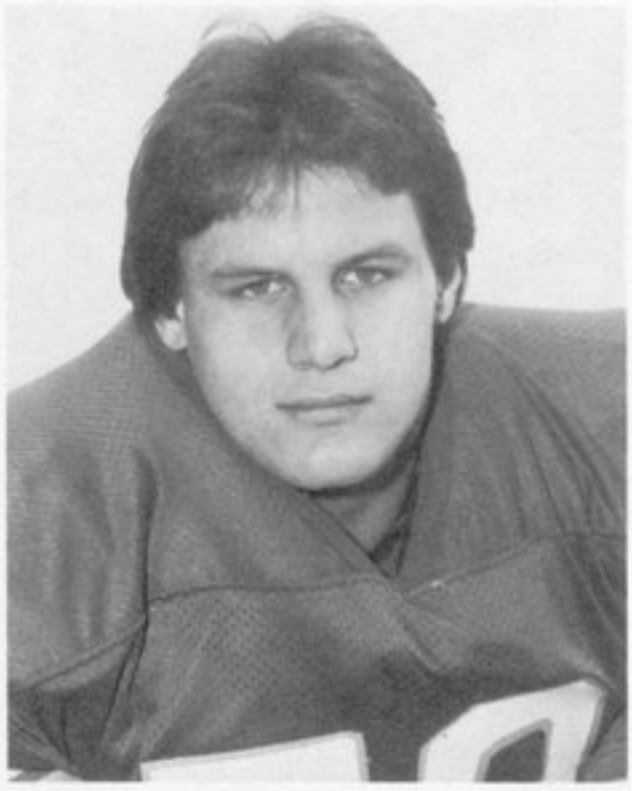
THE PLAYERS

OUTLAND AND LOMBARDI TROPHY CANDIDATE



ALL-AMERICA
BILL FRALIC

OFFENSIVE TACKLE 6-5/270

JUNIOR PENN HILLS, PA

They call him "Bull" and there's no wonder why. But his physical stature takes a back seat only to the tremendous talent possessed by this young man who has the potential to become one of the premier players of collegiate football.

Two years ago, Bill Fralic stepped on the turf of Pitt Stadium and became the first freshman to start his first collegiate contest at Pitt since Tony Dorsett did so in 1973. And with two fine seasons behind him, it only makes sense that the next two years could add up to a more than sensational college career. When the Associated Press named its All-American squad in 1982 and it included the name "Bill Fralic," the Panthers became the most recognized offensive line in the country for the season. Not only was Fralic an All-America at one tackle, but Jimbo Covert earned All-America status at the other tackle spot. There have only been two other sophomores at Pitt to win such acclaim. Those two were Dorsett and Hugh Green, not bad company. Recognized as one of the finest offensive linemen in the country in '82, Fralic is a legitimate contender for the Outland and Lombardi Trophy this year.

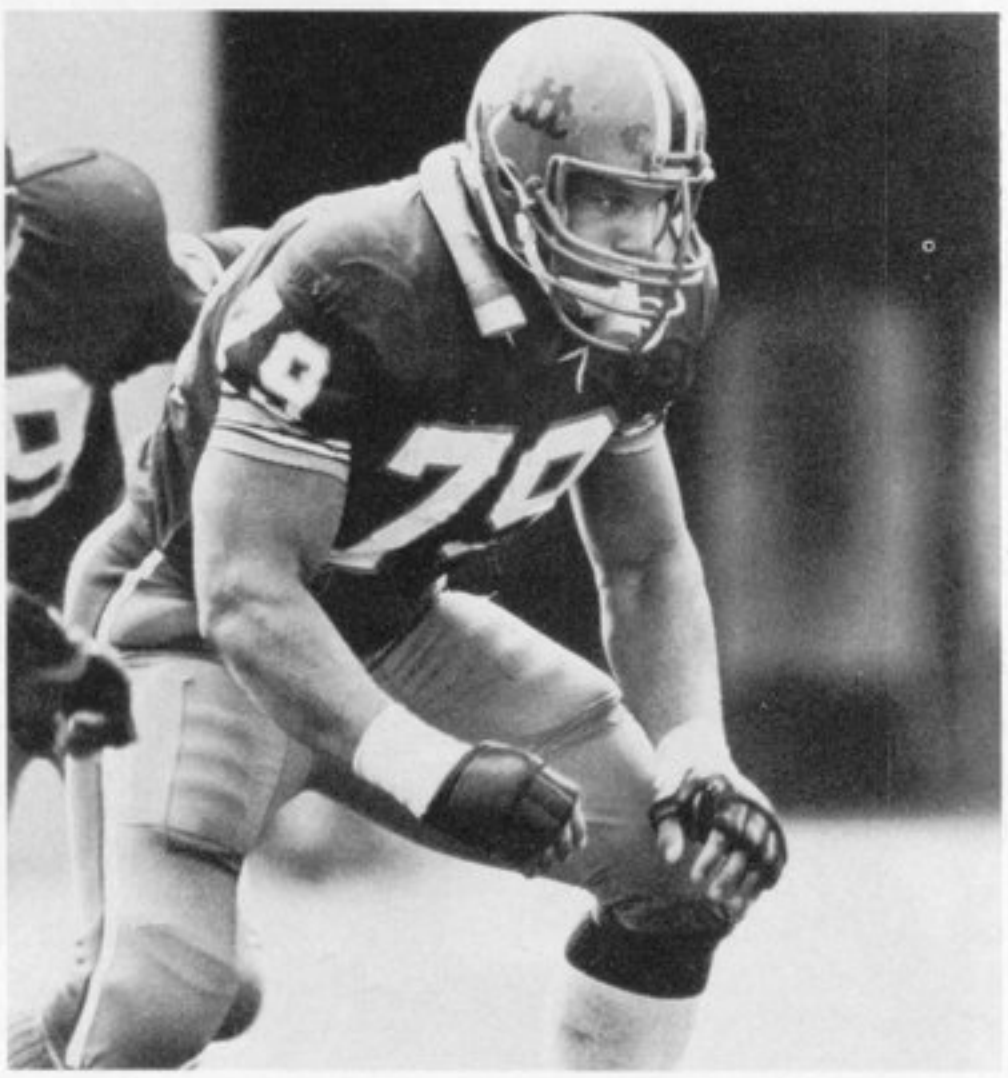
After his freshman year, Fralic left no doubt that he was headed for greatness. Everyone seemed to agree that Fralic was the top frosh lineman in the country. "He played his position better than any freshman I've ever seen play any position," said Panther offensive line coach Joe Moore, who has seen some good freshmen, such as Dan Marino and Green.

Moore's opinion of Fralic has done nothing but grow since that intitial season. Today Moore says, "Bill Fralic is simply a great, great football player. As a freshman, his pass blocking was unbelievable. In his sophomore year, his pass blocking improved. As a freshman, his run blocking was outstanding. His sophomore year, he improved his run blocking. If he continues to make the same improvement, I feel he has a chance to become one of the greatest, if not the greatest, offensive linemen to play the college game. He was the best freshman I've ever seen play. He was the best sophomore I've ever seen play. Now we'll see if he is the best junior I've ever seen play. He is the best tackle in the country. He possesses all the tools. How well he develops now depends on his own personal motivation.

"Bill's definitely off to the finest start I've ever seen for an offensive lineman. In two years, he's just about dominated everybody he's played against. If he dedicates himself and continues to improve, I think it's unlimited as to how good he can become."

Pitt Head Coach Foge Fazio can only agree with Moore. "Bill Fralic, although he will only be a junior, is proving that he is one of the premier offensive linemen in the game of college football," said Fazio of the young man who has already been named to several preseason All-America squads, including that of Playboy magazine. "Not only is he an excellent blocker both on the run and on the pass, he's just so aggressive that he's not satisfied with just keeping his man out of the play. He wants to completely demolish and completely dominate the line of scrimmage."

As a freshman, Fralic earned honorable mention All-America honors from the Associated Press. He had such a fine season, one that was highlighted by his grading out to a perfect 100% on run blocking in a game against Boston College. Not once did his man touch the ballcarrier during the day, and for that effort he was named Offensive-Player-of-the-Game by the Pitt coaches, none of whom could recall the last time an offensive lineman was so honored. Fralic took over the spot left by the graduation of Outland Trophy winner Mark May. Teaming with Covert to form one of the most impressive tackle tandems in the country, Fralic was a big reason for the record-setting success of Marino, who set 13 school records before advancing to the pro ranks.



Fralic showed signs that he would become the athlete he is today. At Penn Hills High School in suburban Pittsburgh, he was a Parade All-America and winner of the Dial Male Athlete-of-the-Year Award as a senior. The previous winner of the award was none other than Herschel Walker. Fralic won eight letters in high school — four in football and four in wrestling. He was coached by Andy Urbanic, who now coaches the running backs for Pitt.

William P. Fralic was born 10/31/62 and is the son of William P. and Dorothy Fralic of Penn Hills, PA.

BILL MAAS

DEFENSIVE TACKLE 6-2/265

SENIOR NEWTOWN SQUARE, PA

In the rich tradition being built that is "Pitt Defense," a tradition within a tradition has been going on for several years now — the great defensive line. The names come to mind instantly — Bill Neill, Gary Burley, Greg Meisner, Al Romano, Dave Logan, just to name a few. Of these staples of the Pitt defensive unit, Bill Maas has come to distinguish himself already, in only his junior season, becoming the first Pitt interior defensive lineman to gain All-America status since Randy Holloway achieved that goal in 1977.

Maas was named first-team All-America at the conclusion of his junior season at Pitt, after totalling 59 tackles, including an amazing 10 sacks and seven more tackles for losses in 12 games. Panther fans will remember his sack of Mountaineer quarterback Jeff Hostetler to help save the game against a feisty West Virginia University offense last fall. Maas is the third top returning tackler for the Panthers in 1983, behind defensive backs Tom Flynn and Troy Hill. Maas has held down a starting position since his sophomore season and has been a mainstay on the tough Panther defensive unit ever since as the starting right tackle.

"I think potentially, if Bill progresses as he has been, he will be one of the best defensive tackles in the country this year," said Pitt defensive line coach Don Thompson. "In the past, Bill has deemed himself as a big-play defensive lineman — that shows in his 10 sacks. All he's got to do is to continue to work hard to insure that he'll be the best.

"With Bill's size and speed, with Bill's tackles and sack production, with Bill's intelligence, he's got the potential to have an outstanding future in both college and pro football."

Thompson compares Maas performance-wise to another great Pitt defensive lineman, Bill Neill (now a starter for the New York Giants). "Performance-wise, both Bills compare favorably. They do have different styles. Neill was a classic-type defensive lineman — like classical music. Maas is more a flamboyant-type player — like rock or disco music. Just remember, both types of music sell albums.

"Maas, in the past, has been a big-play guy. We want him to continue to make his big plays, but also create big plays away from the ball. Make things happen all over the field. If he continues to develop in those positive ways, then I think he can be as good as he wants to be — the sky can be the limit for Bill. The people who he's played against — those offensive All-Americas — he did a real job on them last season. I feel that if he can play with that intensity every game this year, then at season's end, he'll be everybody's All-America."

For his outstanding play against North Carolina in last season's opener, Maas was named CBS "Player-of-the-Game." His freshman season, Maas had a quarterback sack and blocked an extra point in the Gator Bowl; he had 72 tackles as a sophomore.

Said Pitt Head Coach Foge Fazio: "We expect Bill Maas to fall in line as one in the tradition of Pitt defensive linemen — Bill Neill, Jerry Boyarsky, Greg Meisner, Dave Logan — the players who have played defensive line here at Pitt and have gone on to make a name for themselves in pro football. Bill has great size and he's very aggressive — he's been working very hard. He's a freelance type guy and he's been working hard on improving his technique. I feel that if he develops the consistency we're looking for and he continues to work hard, then he'll be one of the best defensive tackles in the country this year."

Maas earned letters in football, wrestling and baseball at Marple Newtown High where his football coach was Bob Kenig. A sociology major at Pitt, William Thomas Maas was born 3/2/62 and is the son of Thomas and Elizabeth Maas of Newtown Square, PA.

ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATE

DWIGHT COLLINS

FLANKER 6-1/210

SENIOR BEAVER FALLS, PA

He's had the superlatives follow him since his freshman season in a Panther uniform. After a sensational freshman year in which Dwight Collins was named to the majority of frosh All-America teams while gaining Pitt records for yards gained receiving in one year (827), yards gained receiving in one game (183 yds. vs. Florida State), and touchdown passes received in a single season (10), Collins has made his mark and there is just no denying that he has the physical tools to be one of the most outstanding flankers in the country.

With a good start in 1983, Collins will etch his name in the Panther record books again. Collins, who has caught 19 touchdown passes in his collegiate career, needs just five more to put his name in the school record books in that category. He also enters his senior year in second place on Pitt's all-time receiving yardage list. Gordon Jones is atop the list with 2,230 yards, while Collins is just 399 yards behind at 1,831. Collins is also 14th on Pitt's all-time scoring list with 114 points.

As a junior, Collins connected on 50 receptions for 696 yards (13.9 avg.) and four touchdowns. His longest of the season was a 41-yarder from quarterback Dan Marino against Syracuse.

"I thought that Dwight, from the Notre Dame game on, was one of the finest wide receivers in the country," said Panther Head Coach Foge Fazio. "He had been bothered by minor pulls that had restricted his chances to really show his speed again. He looks like he's in the best shape he's ever been in — He's a lot lighter than last year. He's concentrating on the ball. Dwight's the type of athlete that we only have to give him the ball a little bit more, give him the ball on short passes, or maybe bring him in the backfield and pitch out to him.

"Last year, I thought in the Notre Dame game he demonstrated that when he got the ball he could not only be a threat but that he is a great runner. I think that Dwight knows that as a senior, this is his last shot and he's prepared himself for a great, great season."

In that Notre Dame game last season, Collins connected on eight receptions for 109 yards, his best individual game of the season.

A game breaker who could be one of the nation's most explosive receivers, Collins averaged a touchdown every third time he caught the ball as a freshman and followed that up his sophomore year by averaging six points on every fourth reception. With his size (6-1, 210) he's already built in the classic flanker mold, but what makes him almost impossible to defend is his combination of 4.3 speed (he was a Pennsylvania State 100 and 200 meter sprint champion) and an incredible leaping ability reminiscent of Pittsburgh Steeler great Lynn Swann.

"Dwight is one of the best receivers in the country," said new Pitt receiver Coach Kent Schoolfield. "He is a great game-breaker because he has very good speed and he's larger than most receivers. He's a big, strong guy who's not afraid to go downfield and throw a block. Dwight is going to have a fine senior season because I think he realizes it's his last shot."

Collins came to Pitt as a high school All-America running back and was switched to receiver after both Pitt flankers went down with injuries in the initial game of Dwight's freshman season.

One of the most highly sought-after football players in the country coming out of high school, this former Parade Magazine All-America came to Pitt from the same Beaver Valley that produced Tony Dorsett. He was a high school All-America in both football and basketball, earning no less than 11 letters at Beaver Falls High School. Dwight Dean Collins was born 8/23/61 and is the son of Eli and Clara Collins of Beaver Falls, PA.

ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATE

TOM FLYNN

SAFETY 6-0/195

SENIOR VERONA, PA

He is the only starter remaining from the great Pitt defense of 1980. It is his responsibility to carry that legacy of fine defense into the 1983 season. After moving to quarterback during spring drills, Tom Flynn is back at free safety for the fall. He is back to the position that he has mastered for three years, and it is a position where he is a definite candidate for All-America honors.

Besides the physical abilities that it takes to be an excellent safety, Flynn has the necessary attitude to succeed, as was the case when the tri-captain devoted most of spring practice to providing leadership and guidance for the young quarterbacks who will be counted on this season.

"Tommy Flynn is probably one of the best football players that we have ever had here at Pitt," said Head Coach Foge Fazio. "He's dedicated to winning, dedicated to doing whatever it takes for Pitt to have an outstanding football team, whether it's at free safety, quarterback, wide receiver — whatever. Tommy's just an outstanding young man and we're very fortunate to have him."

At the free safety spot last season, Flynn accounted for 82 tackles (54 solos, 28 assists) in ten games, while also breaking up six passes and intercepting a pass. He also led all Panther return men with 254 yards on 28 punt returns. He missed two games with a sprained foot sustained during the Notre Dame contest. Not only has he been a fixture in the Panther secondary for the past three seasons, but he's earned the reputation as one of the top free safeties in the country. As a sophomore, Flynn had 83 tackles and a team-high five interceptions. He also had a spectacular 83-yard punt return that broke open a tight game against Florida State.

"In my years of coaching, Tom Flynn is the most complete defensive back I've ever seen," said Pitt secondary Coach Dino Folino. "Tommy's got just an unbelieveable wealth of talent. If you were going to hire an architect to design a defensive back, he'd design you Tom Flynn. Tommy's got excellent speed, excellent size and he's a true, true winner. When the chips are down, he's one player you can depend on. The rest of our defensive players look up to him. They know he won't let them down.

"Tom's a very intelligent person and that shows in his performance on the field. He just has exceptional intelligence. He's got great reactions; he reacts quickly and decisively to everything he sees."

So it is no wonder that Flynn was asked to try his hand at the quarterback position. It is also no surprise that the young quarterbacks were able to improve enough during the spring so that Flynn could move back to the safety spot. Fazio attributes their progress as a group to the leadership provided by Flynn during the spring.

Even though new Pitt quarterback Coach Ron Turner only worked with Flynn a short time, he was greatly impressed. "From what I've seen of Tom, I can tell that he is an exceptional athlete," said Turner. "He's got unbelievable quickness. I really think that his greatest asset is that he's a great competitor; he's a winner and you can see that in him right away. Tom's a take-charge kind of player."

His nickname," The Flyer," was given to him by former Pitt quarterback Dan Marino after Marino watched Flynn soar on the basketball court one afternoon.

The name Tom Flynn obviously means nothing but good things for the Panthers. Fazio feels that Flynn follows in the line of several other fine defensive backs, such as former Panther Bob Jury and ex-Steeler Mike Wagner, two of the best safeties to ever play in the City of Pittsburgh.

Flynn was a WPIAL Class AAA Player-of-the-Year at Penn Hills where he was coached by Pitt running back coach Andy Urbanic. He also garnered All-State and honorable mention All-America honors as a quarterback and a defensive back. Thomas J. Flynn, one of seven brothers and sisters, was born 3/24/62 and is the son of Bernard and Mary Flynn of Verona, PA.

ALL-EAST CANDIDATES

22 TROY HILL CORNERBACK SOUTH RIVER, NJ SR/5-11/174

A leader in every sense of the word, Hill has been selected as one of the Panthers' tri-captains for the '83 season. The second-leading returning tackler from last year's defense, Hill made 61 stops (39 solos, 22 assists), broke up 14 passes (a team-high), recovered two fumbles, and led the team in interceptions with three. He started all of last season and several games the previous year. "Troy is in his second full season as a starter," said secondary Coach Dino Folino. "It is evident that he has the respect of his teammates because he was elected one of the team captains. Troy is an emotional player. He had great games last year against North Carolina and Florida State. He plays good man-to-man defense and is a very good hitter. Troy has a chance to be a fairly high draft pick." In the N.C. game, Hill made nine tackles, including eight unassisted stops, and broke up two passes. Against Florida State, he knocked down four passes and picked one off. As a sophomore, he returned an interception 26 yards against Georgia in the Sugar Bowl. His brother Carl Hill played football at Colorado State, and his brother-in-law is Dallas Cowboy wide receiver Drew Pearson. Hill played high school ball at South River High for Coach Bill Cstari and was an all-star running back for three seasons. A Communications and Business major at Pitt, Troy James Hill was born 2/18/62 and is the son of Max and Carrie Hill of South River, NJ.

53 JIM SWEENEY CENTER PITTSBURGH, PA SR/6-3/250

Pitt offensive line Coach Joe Moore is rather blunt when you ask him about Jim Sweeney. "Sweeney is a great ballplayer," says Moore. "He's the best center in the country." You can't get any more concise than that. Sweeney, one of this year's tri-captains, beat out Tony Magnelli for the starting job a year ago and has had a lock on it ever since. His biggest contribution to the team, though, may be his ability to play all the positions along the offensive front. Last year, he played every position, including tight end, at some time during the season. "We have been very fortunate in the past to have centers like Russ Grimm, Tony Brzoza, and more recently Emil Boures, and now Jim Sweeney," said Head Coach Foge Fazio. "The centers we're had over the past several years have been darn good football players. And now, with a guy like Magnelli backing Sweeney up at center, we can move Sweeney to guard or tackle if needed, so we're very fortunate to have a swing man like Jim Sweeney." Sweeney says that Boures has helped him more than anybody else with his football skills. A Criminology major at Pitt, Sweeney earned two football letters at Seton-LaSalle High for Coach Tom Donahue and was All-Conference and All-WPIAL. His brother Mike played ball at Thiel and Westminster Colleges. James Joseph Sweeney wa born 8/8/62 and is the son of Charles J. and Shirley Sweeney of Pittsburgh, PA.

34 JOE McCALL HALFBACK MIAMI, FL SR/6-1/190

McCall filled in at tailback and fullback last season, but he will have a chance to be the main man this year when he will start at tailback. He lived up to his nickname, "Do It All," as he rushed for 385 yards and caught passes for 262 more in '82. Had an outstanding game against Army when he gained 129 yards on 24 carries. "Speed is Joe's greatest asset," said running back Coach Andy Urbanic. "He is coming off an outstanding spring practice, and with the emphasis this season on the running game he could develop into an excellent running back. He had a fine junior season, but now he is much more mature and has a lot more confidence in his ability. He knows he is number one and he feels a little more secure." McCall ran for 453 yards as a freshman and 179 yards in his sophomore season. He went to Miami Jackson High (Coach Nelson Auggino), a school that has produced eight other Pitt players. As a junior and senior, he was named Miami's Inner-City Back-of-the-Year. He rushed for 2,078 yards as a prep player. A Communications major, Joe McCall was born 2/17/62 and is the son of Carl and Margaret Williams of Miami, FL.

THE 1983 BLUE/GOLD SPRING GAME

Joe McCall rambled for 73 yards on the day and scored three touchdowns to lead the Blue squad to a 31-7 win over the Gold team in the Blue-Gold intrasquad scrimmage, which was held April 30, 1983, at Pitt Stadium and which capped Spring Practice.

It didn't take McCall long to get his team on the board. He scored from one yard out late in the first quarter and then went into the end zone again early in the second period. Placekicker Eric Schubert upped the Blue lead to 17-0 when he connected on a 27-yard field goal with just 37 seconds left in the first half.

McCall scored his final touchdown of the day early in the third quarter when he scooted in with his third one-yard TD run. Late in the third stanza, Michael Boyd finished off the Blue scoring when he took an 11-yard pass from John Congemi and converted it into a score.

The White team's only points of the day came with less than two minutes left in the contest when Dexter Edmonds caught a 17-yard pass from Al Kniffen.

In addition to McCall's rushing effort, fullback Marlon McIntyre picked up 34 yards on seven carries, and Boyd added 31 more on eight rushes. John Cummings had the best passing day among the quarterbacks as he hit on nine of 18 attempts for 107 yards. Chris Jelic, who saw action with each team's offense, was a combined seven for nine for 66 yards.

Boyd hauled in six passes on the day for a total of 44 yards, and McIntyre was on the receiving end of five aerials which totaled 47 yards. Tight end Clint Wilson gained 49 yards on three catches.

#33, #99, and #13 RETIRED

On December 2, 1982, at the Golden Panther dinner honoring the 1982 Pitt football team, Director of Athletics Dr. Edward Bozik announced that the University of Pittsburgh would officially retire the #13 jersey in honor of Pitt quarterback Dan Marino.

Marino is only the third player in Pitt history to be thus honored. On November 8, 1980, at halftime of the Pitt-Louisville football game, Pitt honored senior defensive end Hugh Green by retiring his jersey #99. The first jersey to be retired was Tony Dorsett's #33. It was retired at halftime of Dorsett's last home game on November 13, 1976, against West Virginia.

The following is the text of the announcement which offically retired #13 and was made by Dr. Bozik:

As a Hollywood script, it may have been rejected. Just a little too perfect, the producers probably would have said. Not really believable, just the stuff of dreams not reality. He is raised just four blocks from the place where as a 17-year-old he becomes the hometown hero as an All-American High School quarterback. 6-4, 215-pounds, handsome and possessed with a rifle arm and keen intelligence, he can name his choice of colleges. Professional baseball in the person of the Kansas City Royals is also an option. He spurns all that and again his choice is located just four blocks from his home. It is a great Institution with a fine football program, but Mom's home cooking and laundry service sway the recruiting battle. In his first appearance in a college game he throws a touchdown pass on his third try, and that sets the tone for his career. Now, four years later his accomplishments read like this: A four-year starter, a first-team All-American, a fourth-place finisher in the Heisman Trophy balloting, holder of a remarkable 13 all-time school records, four bowl appearances in four years, four top-ten rankings in four years, a record of 42-5 on the field, and off the field a 3.0 QPA in Communications in the classroom. In short, he will leave as the greatest quarterback in the history of the school. A touch of Hollywood, perhaps, but live and in person for sure in Pittsburgh . . . That is why tonight, it is with a great deal of pride that I announce that the University of Pittsburgh will officially retire the jersey #13 of Daniel Constantine Marino Jr. Danny, you will thus join only two other all-time Pitt greats to be so honored by having their jersies retired: halfback Tony Dorsett and defensive end Hugh Green. The University of Pittsburgh is very proud of you, Danny, as an athlete and as a young man. Never again will another Pitt football player wear the #13 jersey. It will be retired in our locker room in the same manner as #33 and #99. Thanks, Danny, thanks for the memories.

1982 IN REVIEW

PITT 7, NORTH CAROLINA 6

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 9) — Everybody called this game the official opener of college football for the 1982 season. Panther Head Coach Foge Fazio's debut, Dan Marino and top-ranked Pitt versus Kelvin Bryant and the fifth-ranked Tar Heels, national television, and a packed Three Rivers Stadium — it all added up to an explosive contest. Although the crowd of 54,449 anticipated a high-scoring game, it was the night of defense, as Pitt defensive tackle Bill Maas and UNC linebacker Mike Wilcher captured CBS' Players-of-the-Game honors. A Dan Marino to Bryan Thomas four-yard scoring pass capped a seven-play, 69-yard drive at the start of the third quarter to provide the winning margin for Pitt. The Tar Heels countered with two long field goals.

PITT 37, FLORIDA STATE 17

TALLAHASSEE, FL (September 18) — After falling behind 10-3 in the first quarter, the Panthers tied the game at 17 going into the locker room at halftime. The second half of the game was played in monsoon-like weather, complete with giant-sized moths, and Pitt scored points about as quickly as the rain fell. Art Lowery's five-yard punt return, set up by the bad weather, broke the halftime tie, and two Dan Marino scoring passes padded the lead. The win marked the second in-a-row for Pitt over top-twenty teams, and the late-summer Florida weather forced the Panthers to test their backup people, who turned in fine performances. Bryan Thomas rushed for 95 yards and picked up another 39 in receiving, while Marlon McIntyre scored on runs of three and four yards.

PITT 20, ILLINOIS 3

CHAMPAIGN, IL (September 25) — An overflow crowd of 71,547 filled Memorial Stadium to watch this battle between an undefeated Pitt squad and unbeaten Illinois, still in contention for the Big 10 title. The Panther defense came through once again, as it limited the Illini high-powered passing attack, led by quarterback Tony Eason, to a single field goal and recorded ten sacks. Quarterback Dan Marino turned in his first 200-plus passing day of the season as he completed 18-of 35 for 215 yards. Dwight Collins caught six of those tosses for 117 yards and moved into third place on the Pitt all-time receiving list. Defensive tackle Dave Puzzuoli ignited the Panthers by returning an interception 95 yards for a touchdown. Eric Schubert tacked on field goals of 37 and 30 yards, while Marino hit tight end John Brown with a 15-yard scoring pass.

PITT 16, WEST VIRGINIA 13

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 1) — The Mountaineer fans flocked to Pittsburgh for this backyard brawl, traditional rivalry or any other cliche one might care to use in describing a Pitt-WVU game. The win, played before a capacity Pitt Stadium crowd and a regional television audience, was the most exciting and satisfying for the Panthers to date. Trailing 13-0 with 14 minutes left, QB Dan Marino directed the Panthers on scoring drives of 83 and 48 yards with Bryan Thomas scoring on a three-yard run and Julius Dawkins catching a six-yard Marino TD pass. Bill Maas sacked WVU quarterback Jeff Hostetler in the end zone for Pitt's final two points. Marino, who compiled 200 yards total offense, moved past Tony Dorsett to become Pitt's all-time career total offense leader with 6,579 yards. Defensive end Michael Woods suffered a neck injury that forced him to miss the rest of the season.

GAME 5
PITT 38, TEMPLE 17

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 16) — After four Top Twenty opponents and a week off, the Panthers looked forward to a breather for their Homecoming game. When Pitt went up 17-0 early in the third quarter, it looked as if the rout was on. But the Owls scored two quick touchdowns on long passes by Tim Riordan before Dan Marino hit Julius Dawkins with a 21-yard TD pass to give the Panthers some insurance points. After a Temple field goal, Bill Beach scored the Panthers' final two touchdowns on one-yard runs. Dwight Collins caught six of Marino's 26 completions during the day for 84 yards and two TDs. Marino's 344 yards passing marked his second-highest total for a single game. The game also marked the 15th consecutive game in which Marino had thrown a scoring pass. Tight end John Brown suffered a knee injury which put him out for the rest of the season.

SYRACUSE, NY (October 23) — The Panther defense was finally rewarded for its steady effort as Pitt recorded its first shutout of the year. The Orangemen were held to 71 yards on the ground and just 69 through the air. Pitt's offense scored all the points it needed with touchdowns in the first and fourth periods. Julius Dawkins caught the 20th touchdown pass of his career on a two-yard pass from Dan Marino in the first quarter. Joe McCall scored the other Pitt TD on a one-yard run early in the fourth quarter. GAME 7
PITT 63, LOUISVILLE 14

PITTSBURGH, PA. (October 30) — The Pitt offense had been waiting six games for an outburst, and in this game Dan Marino and Company did indeed explode. After Tim Lewis returned the opening kickoff 91 yards, Joe McCall scored the first of nine Panther touchdowns. Later in the first period, Julius Dawkins caught a 41-yard Dan Marino pass for the 21st receiving TD of his career, tying him with Gordon Jones for the school record. Bryan Thomas became the first Pitt player of the season to rush for over 100 yards in a game, as he ran for 119 and scored two TDs, including a scamper of 51 yards. Placekicker Eric Schubert connected on all nine of his PAT attempts and set a school record for single-game points after touchdown attempted and made. Tom Flynn returned a punt 63 yards for a score early in the second quarter, while Lewis, Pitt's other top return man, suffered an ankle sprain which caused him to miss the next couple of games. Dawkins, who caught three passes for 94 yards, moved into fourth place on the school's receiving list.

PITT 16, NOTRE DAME 31

PITTSBURGH, PA (November 6) — If one game can represent a season, then that's just what the Notre Dame game meant to the Panthers. A national championship, the bowl bid of Pitt's choice, and an undefeated season were all on the line. But the Fighting Irish pulled out all the stops to score three fourth-quarter touchdowns and wipe out Pitt's 13-10 lead. Joe Howard scored ND's go-ahead touchdown on a 54-yard flea-flicker pass from Blair Kiel. Freshman Allen Pinkett scored on runs of 76 and seven yards to put the game away for the Irish and hand Pitt its first loss. The defeat dimmed one of Dan Marino's finest performances. Marino, who completed 26 of 42 passes for 314 yards, had his streak of 17 consecutive games with a TD pass thrown come to a halt. Dwight Collins caught eight passes for 109 yards, moving him into second place on Pitt's career receiving list, while Bryan Thomas, who scored the Panthers' only touchdown on a one-yard third quarter run, gained 93 yards on 27 attempts. Besides losing the game, Pitt lost the services of safety Tom Flynn, who injured his foot in the first half. Eric Schubert had his best day of the year, as he connected on all three of his field goal attempts, including two from 48 yards.

Julius Dawkins became the school's leader in career TD receptions, as he pushed his total to 22, breaking Gordon Jones' mark of 21. Dwight Collins caught Marino's other scoring strikes, while Eric Schubert added a 26-yard field goal. GAME 10
PITT 52, RUTGERS 6

PITTSBURGH, PA (November 20) — It was the last game in Pitt Stadium for Dan Marino and the 24 other seniors on the Panther squad, and their farewell game was typical of the performances of the past four seasons. The senior All-America connection of Dan Marino to split end Julius Dawkins got the Panthers rolling to their second highest point total of the season. Seniors Bryan Thomas and Keith Williams also racked up scores, as Thomas scored on two short runs and Williams caught a 10-yard pass from Marino, who was 22 of 30 for 262 yards and three touchdowns on the day. For the fifth time of the season, the Panther "D" did not allow a touchdown by forcing Rutgers to settle for a pair of 51-yard Alex Falcinelli field goals. Eric Schubert ran his string of extra points without a miss to 32.

GAME 11
PITT 10, PENN STATE 19

UNIVERSITY PARK, PA. (November 26) — Every year, the Pitt vs. Penn State game is the battle for football supremacy in the East. This game, however, had even higher stakes than normal. A national championship was still very possible for the winner. On the strength of four Nick Gancitano field goals, including three in the second half, the Nittany Lions were able to overcome a 7-3 halftime deficit to take the win before a Beaver Stadium record crowd of 85,522. Tailback Bryan Thomas turned in the finest rushing performance of the year for the Panthers as he picked up 143 yards on 31 carries to move him into third place on Pitt's all-time rushing list. Thomas also caught seven passes for 46 yards. Dan Marino hit on 18 of 32 passes for 193 yards. Marino and Thomas each had more productive days than their PSU counterparts, Todd Blackledge and Curt Warner. Included in Pitt's 397 yards total offense were six Dwight Collins' catches for 71 yards. Thomas and Eric Schubert scored all the Panthers' points on a four-yard run and a 17-yard field goal, respectively.

GAME 12
PITT 3, SOUTHERN METHODIST 7

DALLAS, TX (January 1, 1983)—The tone of the 47th Annual Cotton Bowl was set early as far as the Panthers were concerned. It appeared that Joe McCall was about to sail over from the one-yard line to cap Pitt's opening drive of the game, but McCall was hit in mid-air and fumbled the ball, which SMU recovered, and the Panthers missed their best TD opportunity of the day. Two other Pitt drives ended in a missed 26-yard field goal attempt and an interception in the end zone. The Panthers scored first on an Eric Schubert 43-yard field goal late in the third quarter, but SMU scored the decisive touchdown when quarterback Lance McIlhenny kept the ball around right end and went in from nine yards out to cap an 80-yard drive early in the last period. Dan Marino finished his outstanding career at Pitt by connecting on 19 of 37 passes for 181 yards. Tailback Bryan Thomas, another senior, rambled for 69 yards and caught five passes for 38 more. It was the last game in a Pitt uniform for 25 seniors, who compiled a four-year mark of 42-6. The Pitt defense, which finished the year ranked third in the country, allowed the high-powered Mustang running attack to gain just 153 yards and gave up just 101 in the air, while forcing two fumbles.

THE UNIVERSITY
Pitt

Departmental Support Services

Alex Kramer

Administrative Assistant

As Administrative Assistant, Alex Kramer coordinates many Athletic Department activities.

Alex and his family have always been big Pitt fans, even though Alex was born and raised on the Bluff, when Duquesne was a national power in the 1930's. Alex recalls his father taking him to the B&O Railroad Station to meet the 1937 National Championship team after its 10-0 win over Duke.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Kramer was a football manager from 1948-51 and during his tenure, served four different coaches: Mike Milligan, John Chickerneo, Len Casanova and Captain Tom Hamilton. He was manager of the 1950 freshmen team, a team that was the first frosh team to go undefeated.

As an undergraduate at Pitt, Alex roomed with Joe Schmidt, the former Panther great and pro football coach, who has been inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Alex joined the Pitt staff in July of 1978 to serve as Administrative Assistant. This topped a long-time association in which Alex was active in alumni and Golden Panthers affairs.

Prior to joining the Pitt staff, Alex was director of curriculum in the Moon Area School District. He had been with the Moon Area Schools since 1956.

Coach Fazio said, "Alex is always very organized, very loyal, and a Pitt alumnus who takes his job very, very seriously. Alex is a person that the department cannot get along without."

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 7/8/29. Hometown: Pittsburgh, PA. Alma Mater: Pitt '52-M.A. at Pitt '61. Married to the former Betty McCormick and father of Charles (25) and Michele (21).

Joe Duff

Recruiting Coordinator

Joe Duff, a Mt. Lebanon, PA native with a wide background in marketing, promotions and athletics, was named the new recruiting coordinator for the Pitt Athletic Department by Athletic Director Ed Bozik in 1982.

As the new recruiting coordinator for the overall Pitt athletic program, Duff will oversee the recruiting efforts of all sports. He was recently employed as an account executive by Municipal Publications, Inc., a parent company for Philadelphia and Boston Magazines. Prior to his stint with Municipal Publications, Duff served as AMF and Head Sportswear's Mid-Atlantic sales representative from 1978 to 1980. From 1976 to 1978 Duff was a partner in the World Champion Sports firm which represented sporting goods manufacturers as well as being involved in fund raising activities. He originally joined the Pitt staff in 1974 assisting former Pitt head football coach Johnny Majors with scouting and recruiting as a Graduate Assistant.

"He's a local product who has experience in the Philadelphia area as well," said Coach Fazio. "Joe is a very personable, bright, and intelligent young man who should be of great benefit to our football and recruiting program."

"I feel my varied experiences in marketing and promotions along with my athletic background will prove valuable for both Pitt and myself," said Duff.

Duff attended Boston University from 1972 to 1974 before transferring to Pitt where he received a B.A. in Communications in 1979. A Mt. Lebanon High School graduate, Duff earned six varsity letters there — two in football, track and hockey. Duff is married to the former Patrice M. Mannion and the couple currently resides in Bridgeville, PA, and have a son, Kyle.

Charles "Buddy" Morris

Weight Training Coordinator

Charles "Buddy" Morris begins his fourth year on the Pitt staff as Weight Training Coordinator. Morris has established and implemented a strength, flexibility and conditioning program for Pitt athletes.

A native of Pittsburgh, Morris attended South Park High School before receiving a track scholarship at Indiana State (Terre Haute) but left there and came to Pitt after his freshman season. He was a member of the Panther track squad under Coach Mike Agostinella. He is a 1980 graduate of Pitt.

No stranger to the Pitt weight room, Morris has worked with Bob Jury, Jeff Delaney, and CMU's Gusty Sunseri, helping them develop strength and speed.

Morris has found that the key to motivating the players to work hard is working alongside of them.

"You have to look the part to sell the product," he said. "It takes hard work and a lot of time to develop your body properly. Occasional lifting doesn't work for the players' benefit. You have to be consistent."

Coach Fazio said, "Buddy does an outstanding job, and although rather young for the position, has gained a tremendous amount of experience. His reputation as being one of the top weight and strength coaches in the United States is growing and growing."

Personal Information: Hometown: South Park, PA. Alma Mater: Pitt '80. Married to the former Pitt high jumper Karen Krichko.

Tom Connors

Head Equipment Manager

Tom Connors, who has been directly and indirectly associated with the Pitt athletic program since he was seven years old, begins his seventh season as Head Equipment Manager at Pitt.

Tom's relationship with Pitt goes back to his childhood days when his Dad brought him to work at Pitt. His father, "Boo," was the head equipment man at Pitt for 25 years.

Tom has learned to handle such a large operation at such a young age (29 years old) from working with three of the most knowledgeable equipment people in the business — his father, Tony Parisi of the Steelers, and the late Jack Hart, formerly of the Steelers.

Connors' duties include maintaining equipment supplies, equipment distribution and supervision of the locker room area and field.

Before becoming Head Equipment Manager at Pitt, Connors served as his father's assistant, and periodically assisted the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1969 to 1975.

Coach Fazio said, "Tommy has known the business and has been around Pitt football and equipment for many, many years. He knows the job inside and out."

Tom resides in Oakland and is single.

THE MEDICAL CARE OF PANTHER ATHLETES

The Panthers receive medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine which sponsors regular sports medicine clinics at Pitt Stadium where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated. The opening of a new and enlarged clinic area with expanded x-ray facilities is anticipated in the near future.

Dr. Richard L. Ray serves as team physician and orthopaedic surgeon. Dr. H. Lee Dameshek provides medical consultation for the Panther athletes. In addition, a staff of consulting specialists is available at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine to assist in providing top quality medical treatment to more than 500 male and female varsity athletes. Hospital care is provided at Presbyterian-University Hospital.

Prior to any practices or competition, each varsity athlete receives a comprehensive physical examination. The physical well-being of the athletes is monitored during the period of competition and training. Effort is made to provide not only treatment for injury and illness that may occur during the season but also preventive measures which will result in participation which is as safe as possible.

To achieve these goals, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Francis Feld, who has served as the Assistant Football Trainer since 1978, has moved up to become Head Football Trainer. David Perrin is Head Athletic Trainer and coordinator of the athletic training education curriculum.

The University of Pittsburgh offers an N.A.T.A. approved undergraduate curriculum designed to prepare students for the certification examination. This program was established in 1975 and is offered through the School of Education, Program in Health, Physical and Recreation Education.

Because of the need for certified athletic trainers on the secondary school level, N.A.T.A. has introduced the concept of the teacher-trainer. Students enrolling in athletic training curricula are strongly recommended to pursue a teaching certificate program. A unique feature of the program is that students can major in any teaching curriculum while pursuing a career in athletic training.

The program is one of a few in the country open to both education and physical therapy majors.

With this extensive program, an additional responsibility of the athletic trainer at Pitt is teaching the Athletic Training and Sports Medicine curriculum.

As well as servicing all 17 athletic teams at the University, the Pitt training staff serves as consultants and participants in clinics throughout the area.

DR. RICHARD RAY
Team Physician

Dr. Richard Ray joined the Pitt athletic staff as the team physician and orthopaedic surgeon in 1979.

He received his undergraduate degree from Kenyon College and his graduate degree from the University of Pittsburgh. His internship and residency were served at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke Medical Center in Chicago and the University of Pittsburgh. He studied under a Peabody Fellowship at Massachusetts General Hospital in 1977-78.

He served as a Lt. Commander and Chief of Orthopaedics at the U.S. Naval Regional Medical Center in Yokosuka, Japan, from 1974-76 and also at the Naval Submarine Medical Center (Groton, CT) in 1976-77.

He is currently on the staff of Presbyterian-University Hospital, Allegheny General Hospital and Children's Hospital. He is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery at Pitt and Chairman of the medical committee for the Allegheny County Special Olympics. Dr. Ray is a member of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, the Orthopaedic Research Society, and the American College of Sports Medicine.

DAVE PERRIN
Head Athletic Trainer

Dave Perrin joined the Pitt staff in 1977 and currently coordinates the athletic training services for all Pitt sports, its six faculty athletic trainers and twenty-five student athletic trainers.

Perrin received his undergraduate degree from Castleton State College (Vermont) and his Master's Degree from Indiana State University. He is presently completing his Ph.D. in Exercise Physiology at Pitt.

In addition to his responsibilities as Head Athletic Trainer, Perrin is an Assistant Professor in the Program of Health and Physical Education where he directs the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) approved undergraduate athletic training curriculum.

He is professionally active on the state and national levels, having directed and lectured at a number of sports medicine symposia as well as currently serving on the Professional Education Committee of the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society and the National Athletic Trainers Association.

FRANCIS FELD
Head Football Trainer

Francis Feld joined the Pitt staff as an athletic trainer and clinical instructor in the Division of Sports Medicine in 1978, and this past summer was promoted to head football trainer. Prior to 1978, he was head athletic trainer for two years at Center Township High School.

Francis is a 1976 graduate of Pitt and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in History and Sociology, with a specialization in athletic training.

He has lectured at various high school and midget football league clinics in the area.

Originally from North Beaver (Mohawk High School) Township, Francis is single.

ACADEMIC SERVICES FOR PITT ATHLETES

Heavy demands, both on and off the field, are placed on all athletes at the University of Pittsburgh. The University is known for academic excellence, with a wide range of liberal arts and professional degree programs. The recent curriculum reform with the College of Arts and Sciences reaffirms this desire for excellence. As students, members of the football team must take a full schedule of classes, while at the same time practicing, travelling, and competing in their sport. It is important that these athletes make progress toward their degree in the few years they are here at Pitt.

Because of this commitment to both athletics and academics, the University established the Office of Academic Services for Athletics in 1976. Today, this service is considered a model of its kind. This office exists solely to assist all Pitt athletes in defining and reaching their academic goals. Many services are offered. Basic skills are assessed and an academic profile is developed. Learning and study skills are strengthened through programs coordinated through the office. Academic advising is offered, as is personal and career counseling. Class performance is regularly checked, and a full tutoring service is made available for those who request it. Most importantly, the support service staff monitors the progress each athlete makes toward his degree.

The director of the Athletic Academic Services is Paul Yuna. Yuna, who has worked in the office since 1977, is a former Pitt football letterman. Like all the other members of the staff, he holds a Master's Degree and is currently pursuing his Ph.D. He is assisted by David Pistolesi, and Lloyd Weston, a former Pitt football All-America. Jean Wilson is the administrative assistant and coordinator of day-to-day office activities. The newest member of the staff is Ruth Davis, whose responsibility is learning skills. In addition to this full-time staff, there are two part-time advisors — Charma Dudley and Tom Price — and several tutors.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH

The Cathedral of Learning

After almost two centuries of development, the University of Pittsburgh has become a major institution of higher education serving the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the nation.

Private, state-related, and nonsectarian, Pitt today is a complex of 16 schools, 97 departments, 23 special centers, and four regional campuses serving outlying regions of Pennsylvania at Greensburg, Johnstown, Bradford, and Titusville. The Pittsburgh campus consists of 54 buildings on 125 acres of land, dominated by the Cathedral of Learning, a historic landmark and, at 42 stories, the tallest school building in the country.

Under the leadership of Wesley Wentz Posvar, who became the University's 15th chancellor in 1967, Pitt has experienced a period of extraordinary growth. Enrollment has more than doubled to its present 35,000 students. Full- and part-time faculty numbering 2,800 teach 750,000 credit-hours each year.

Through teaching and research the University meets a local, national, and international public-service mission. Units like the University Center for Social and Urban Research, Philosophy of Science Center, Center for Environmental Epidemiology, Long-Term Care Gerontology Center, Race Desegregation Assistance Center, NASA Industrial Applications Center, and the University Center for International Studies provide expertise to government agencies, citizens' groups, and others concerned with solving societal problems.

Increased enrollment in the 1970s was accompanied by an expansion of University facilities, including construction of new homes for the Schools of Law, Engineering, Nursing, and the Graduate School of Business; the award-winning Chemistry Building; the Learning Research and Development Center; and Forbes Quadrangle, which houses the School of Education, the Graduate School of Public and International Affiars, and the social sciences. At the heart of scholarly activities at Pitt is Hillman Library. Completed in 1968, it is the center of a library system housing more than 3,700,000 volumes.

In 1982, the University awarded 6,000 undergraduate and graduate degrees. Pitt has more than 117,000 graduates scattered throughout the 50 states and in 97 countries.

The University has continued to increase in national and international stature, annually attracting more than $50-million in sponsored research and programs. In 1974 Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities.

Pitt has been the site of many scientific achievements. Jonas Salk in 1953 developed and tested the Salk polio vaccine; Klaus Hofmann in 1961 synthesized the hormone ACTH; Panayotis Katsoyannis in 1964 developed synthetic insulin. In 1975 Pitt anthropologist James Adovasio began an archaeological dig just south of Pittsburgh, which is the oldest verified site of continuous human occupation in the Western Hemisphere. William Cassidy, who in 1977 discovered the largest meteorite ever found in Antarctica, was the first scientist to predict the location of meteors. Charles Brinton's research team in 1977 developed vaccines against three major bacterial diseases: gonorrhea, diarrhea, and Pseudomonas aeruginosa infection.

Following are some of the other highlights in the history of the University's development.

1787 — Four years after the end of the American War of Independence, a Commonwealth charter established the Pittsburgh Academy, first school of higher learning west of the Allegheny Mountains, and the forerunner of the University of Pittsburgh. Classes were held in a log cabin until a Commonwealth appropriation of $5,000 enabled construction of a brick building in what is now downtown Pittsburgh.

1819 — A new charter changed the name to the Western University of Pittsburgh.

1892 — W.U.P. completed affiliation with Western Pennsylvania Medical college, forerunner of Pitt's School of Medicine.

1908 — W.U.P. moved to its present site in Oakland and changed its name to the University of Pittsburgh.

1926 — Ground was broken for the Cathedral of Learning, the culmination of the vision and leadership of Chancellor John G. Bowman.

1966 — Pitt entered into a new private-public partnership of state-relatedness, becoming a part of the Commonwealth System of Higher Education. The new financial arrangement helped the University to maintain and expand high quality education and at the same time provide higher-educational opportunities for more students in the state through lowered tuition rates.

Special mention should be made of the University of Pittsburgh's six Schools of the Health Sciences — Medicine, Dental Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health, and Health Related Professions — and the Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic. They have affiliations with the corporate members of the University Health Center of Pittsburgh, which was formed in 1965. Its other members include five major hospitals adjacent to the University: Presbyterian-University and Montefiore, both adult medical-surgical hospitals; Children's; Magee-Womens; and Eye and Ear. Together they form one of the outstanding centers in the country for high-quality patient care through health education, research, and services.

The "Golden Triangle" of Pittsburgh where the three rivers — Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio — meet.

Dr. Wesley W. Posvar, Chancellor

When Dr. Posvar was named Chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh in June, 1967, the University already boasted a treasured academic and athletic tradition.

Dr. Posvar has further enhanced the University's national and international reputation — both academically and athletically.

Over the past year, Dr. Posvar has assumed a national leadership role for Pitt in intercollegiate athletics. He has been a member of the NCAA Select Committee which is seeking solutions to the problems which presently confront intercollegiate athletics. In addition, Dr. Posvar has become one of the principal spokespersons among the nation's presidents and chancellors concerning the role of athletics within institutions of higher learning.

In the same symbolic manner in which the Cathedral of Learning stands tall against the graceful Oakland skyline, Pitt excels as an athletic power. In 1976, the Pitt football team won the National Championship to become the sixth all-time leader in National Collegiate Football Championships. Attesting to its academic excellence, the University is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research universities. Both of these achievements underscore the University's continuing quest for excellence in both academics and athletics.

A former college athlete who believes a strong athletic program should complement a high-quality academic experience, Dr. Posvar has earned the reputation as "Pitt's #1 Sports Fan."

Born in Topeka, Kansas, Dr. Posvar is an engineering graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point where he graduated first in his class. A Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, he earned Master's Degrees in Philosophy, Politics, and Economics. At Harvard, he received an M.A. in Public Administration and a Ph.D. in Political Science. He was named one of the Ten Most Outstanding Young Men by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Posvar served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon and was head of the 120-man social sciences division at the United States Air Force Academy before his appointment as Chancellor.

Dr. Posvar has also accumulated several athletic awards, among them "Sportsman of the Year" by the Allegheny County Civic Sportsmen Association and was the recipient of the Contribution to Amateur Athletics Award by the Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

His wife sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Leider singer. An active civic leader, she is the founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Opera Theater — the touring and educational adjunct of the Pittsburgh Opera.

The Posvars have three children: Wesley, Marina, and Lisa.

Dr. Edward E. Bozik, Director of Athletics

Dr. Edward E. Bozik, a man with broad management and administrative experience in both athletics and academics, became the Director of Athletics at the University of Pittsburgh on September 1, 1982.

Dr. Bozik responded quickly to guidance provided by Chancellor Posvar upon his appointment. Improved academic performances of all student athletes became the first priority, and the resources and effort dedicated to that area began to pay substantial dividends. The football and men's basketball teams continued to build upon past successes, and other varsity sports for men and women began the advance to championship calibre with Big East Championships in women's volleyball and swimming and in men's swimming. Pitt's track and field team gained new respect and produced the first NCAA outdoor champion since 1956 when Roger Kingdom won the 110-meter high hurdles.

On the national scene, Dr. Bozik has been active as Chancellor Posvar's principal staff assistant in his responsibilities for the NCAA Select Committee and the American Council on Education Committee for Division I Athletics. This past June he was elected as a member of the Board of Directors of the College Football Association, and in July he became President of the newly formed Collegiate Independents Football Officiating Association.

No stranger to the Pitt athletic scene when he was named Director of Athletics last August, Dr. Bozik had, since 1975, maintained staff oversight of intercollegiate programs as part of his responsibilities as Chancellor Wesley Posvar's principal staff assistant.

Dr. Bozik is a native of Donora, PA, a town well-known for the many great athletes and high school teams it has produced. A 1946 graduate of Donora High School, he received his B.S. from California University of Pennsylvania in 1953 and later earned his Ph.D in Political Science from Georgetown University.

Following his graduation from California, he served in the United States Air Force from 1953-66, principally as an aircrew member in the Strategic Air Command and as a Comptroller and Management Analysis Officer. In July of 1966 he joined the Air Force Academy faculty as an instructor, and in 1971, served briefly as chairman of the Department of Political Science.

From the Academy, Dr. Bozik moved to the National War College in Washington, DC, where he served as head of the faculty from 1973-74. He was then assigned duties on the Air Force Staff and became involved in planning for strategic arms limitations and other political/military matters.

The strong commitment to education runs throughout the Bozik family. Dr. Bozik's wife, JoAn, a native of California, PA, holds a graduate degree in speech pathology and deaf education and has taught in the field of special education in five different states. Mrs. Bozik is currently a full-time doctoral candidate at Pitt.

The Bozik children are also continuing the educational commitment. Daughter, Peggy Jo, is a third-year law student at Pitt, with undergraduate music and psychology degrees from Pitt. Son, Michael, is a Notre Dame graduate who is attending the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Son, Tim, another Notre Dame graduate, is employed by the Prentice-Hall Publishing Corporation.

Dr. Bozik's mother, Mrs. Ann Bozik, retired several years ago from her duties at the Scotland, Pennsylvania, School for Veterans' Children and continues to reside in her hometown of Donora.

The Pitt Golden Panthers are the outside financial supporters of Pitt's Athletic Programs. The primary objective of the Pitt Golden Panthers is to help Pitt sustain prominence in athletics. During the short span of 11 years, the Golden Panther Organization has grown from a handful of members to over 5,000 to date. The Pitt Golden Panthers have contributed over $4 million to the program during this time.

In addition to raising funds for Athletics, the Pitt Golden Panthers also promote Pitt throughout the area, creating chapters within Pennsylvania — currently 14 chapters — help with recruiting, season ticket sales, and in general, promote the University of Pittsburgh.

All contributors to the Golden Panthers receive donor credit in the University's annual Giving Fund and its various giving clubs.

Head Cheerleading Coach

Karen Agostinella begins her ninth year as head coach of the Pitt cheerleading squad. In the past eight years, Mrs. Agostinella has gained a national reputation and is highly respected for her fine work in the development of collegiate cheerleading. A graduate of Slippery Rock State College, Karen is a physical education instructor in a suburban Pittsburgh school district. A native of Hopewell, PA, Karen and her husband Mike reside in Bethel Park, PA.

The Panther Mascot

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M. P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region; (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH MARCHING BAND

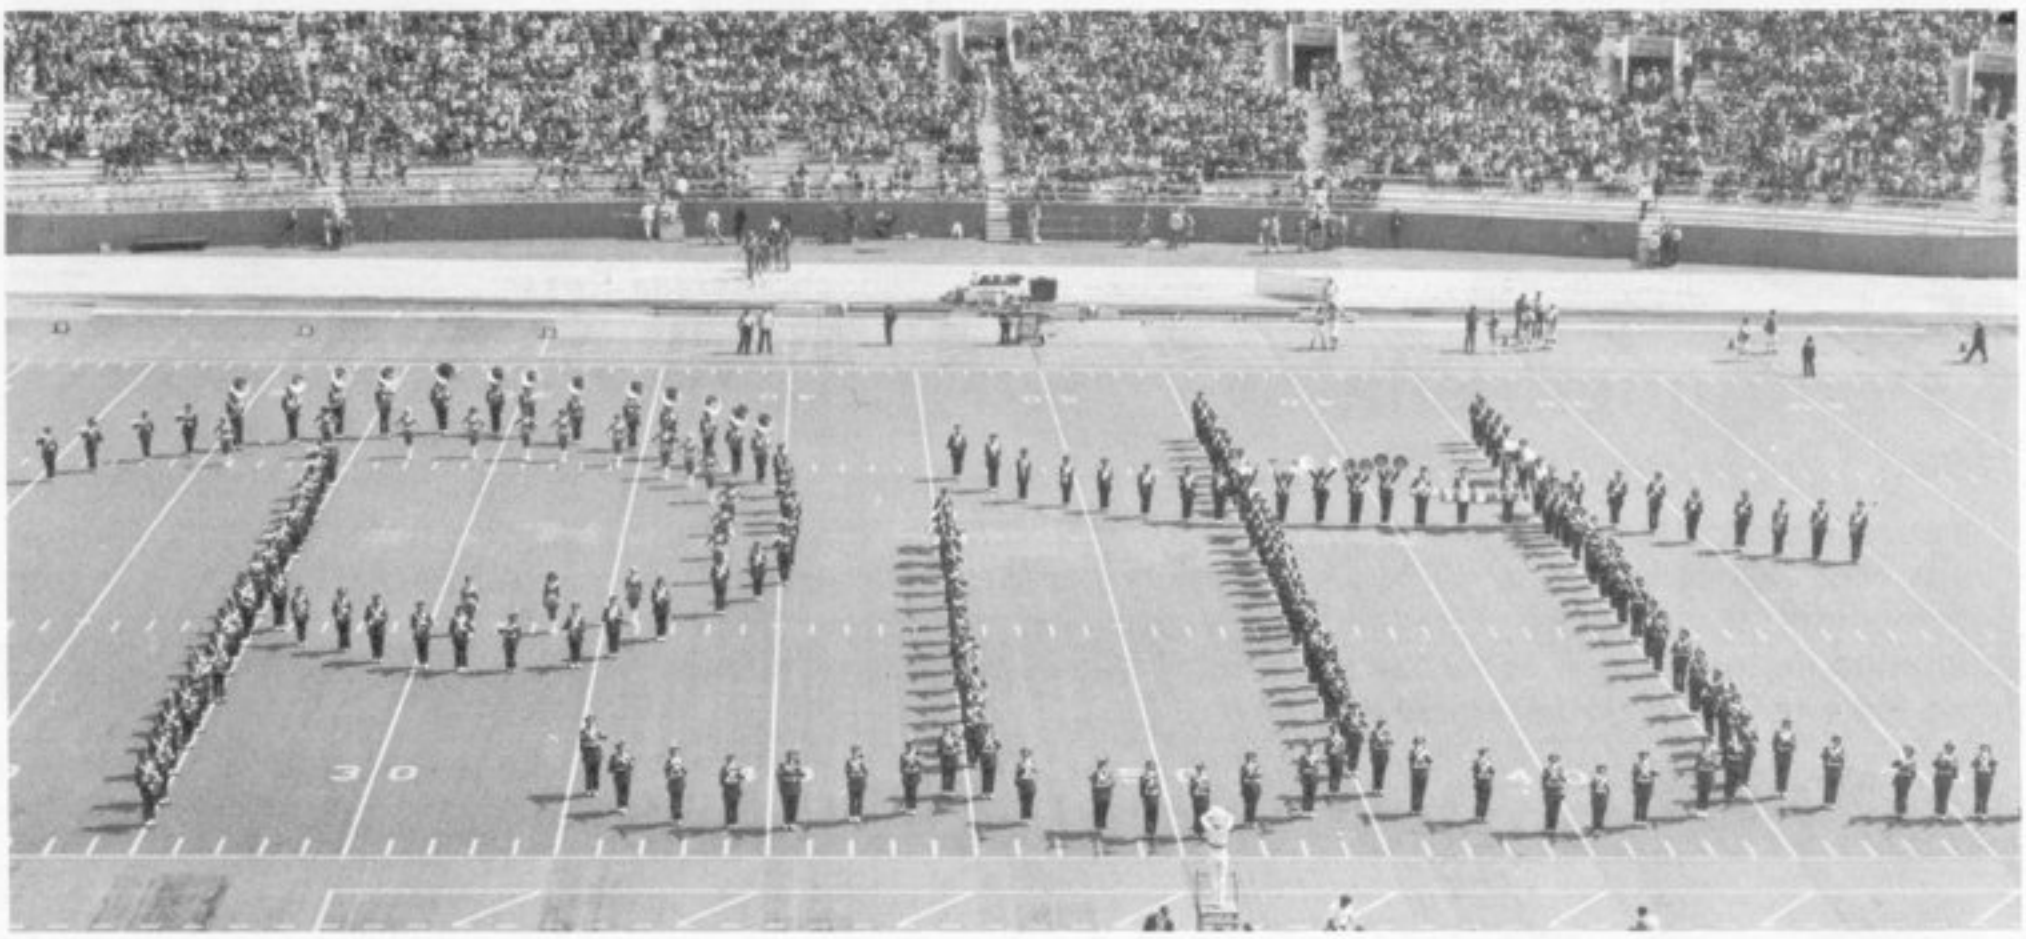
Making music is only part of what the Pitt Bands do. For the University, they perform a valuable service, whether on the football field, at a basketball game or in the Concert Hall. Traditionally they have provided members with unique opportunities for musical expression and the kind of person to person fellowship that is so important to University life.

Composed of 200 instrumentalists and 19 Golden Girls, the Pitt Band is considered among the finest marching bands in the country and serves as a vital tool for generating fan enthusiasm at sporting events. Its musical quality, marching expertise and imaginative half-time shows are reasons which have led to the Band's national recognition.

The Pitt Band is a totally volunteer student organization with no scholarship or financial aid given to the Band members. Every School and Department of the University is represented among its membership. Each year the Pitt Band travels to at least two away football games and to six of Pitt's last seven Bowl games. Included among these appearances are the Sun Bowl, Tangerine Bowl, Gator Bowl and Sugar Bowl. The Pitt Band has also had the privilege of appearing with Chuck Mangione and Anita Bryant at the Sugar Bowl in 1977 and the Tangerine Bowl in 1978.

Other musical organizations in the Division of University Bands include the Concert Band Basketball Pep Band and the "Solid Gold" jazz-rock band.

The Band staff includes: Director of Bands Donald E. Hower, Associate Director of Bands Vince Biancucci, Music Arranger Joe Campus, Choreographer Larry Cervi, Percussion Instructor Lorry Yednak and Announcer Clayton Hartman.



Donald E. Hower

Director of Bands

A native Pennsylvanian, Donald Hower holds degrees from Ohio State and Temple University. Prior to coming to Pitt, he was the assistant director of the Ohio State University Marching Band and also taught trombone at Ohio State. During the fall, Hower directs the marching and concert bands, as well as taking care of all administrative work for the band program. During the winter months, he directs the concert and "Solid Gold" jazz bands, as well as visiting local schools to carry on an extensive recruiting campaign on behalf of the University Bands. Hower has served as a clinician, adjudicator and private instructor in the Tri-State area. He is married to the former Kathleen Hollinger — the Howers have two daughters: Genevieve (6) and Jessica (3).

Also on radio this Fall, WTAE will continue the popular "Panther Hotline." This gives the Panthers a solid five hours of Pitt football coverage starting one-half hour before game time and concluding one-half hour after the end of the game. The coverage begins with the pre-game show. Following the game is the "Panther Hotline" post-game show, hosted by Johnny Sauer and Bob Kopler. The most recent addition to the Panther radio coverage will be a one-hour talk show to be aired 10:00-11:00 PM Sunday on 1250/WTAE Radio. The show will feature Pitt football with Head Coach Foge Fazio. After football season, the show will switch to basketball and feature Head Basketball Coach Dr. Roy Chipman.

Bill Hillgrove

Play-by-Play Announcer

Bill Hillgrove's wife, Rosette, admits that her husband "always asks me what he's going to do when he grows up."

He truly is a man who enjoys his work. Hillgrove has been calling the play-by-play action for the Pitt Panthers football team since 1974, when he replaced the late Ed Conway. He has also been the "voice" of Pitt Basketball as play-by-play man for the past 13 years.

In the past several years, Hillgrove has gained a solid reputation as one of Pennsylvania's most knowledgeable sportscasters. He first joined the Pitt broadcast team in 1969 as the color man on football broadcasts.

"I love this kind of work because it keeps me young," said Hillgrove. "The relationships I have with the people involved with college athletics is very special. You've got to have fun with it — and we do.

"It is also a pleasure to work with the most knowledgeable man in the game of football, my partner, Johnny Sauer," Hillgrove added.

Hillgrove, sports director of WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, is on the board of directors of both the Golden Triangle YMCA and AFTRA. He holds a bachelors degree in radio and TV journalism from Duquesne University.

Hillgrove is married to the former Rosette Sapienza, who is a music teacher and faculty member at Duquesne University. The Hillgroves have two children, Billy Paul (17) and Leah (10).

John Sauer

Color Analyst

Johnny Sauer, noted for his popular color commentary, begins his tenth year on the Pitt broadcast team. The former NFL analyst of 12 years joined up with Bill Hillgrove in 1974.

He was associated with the Hughes Sports Network from 1970-72 and has worked numerous football bowl games including the Gator, Astro-BlueBonnet, Cotton, Tangerine, Blue-Gray and Fiesta Bowl. He served as sports director of WING Radio in Dayton, Ohio from 1957-71.

In his 30 years of sports broadcasting, Sauer attributes his switch from TV broadcasting back to radio because "you can talk more on radio than TV."

"The Panther broadcasts will be my swan song in sports broadcasting," added Sauer. "Nothing compares to the association that I've had with the Panthers."

A 1946 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy, Sauer was a classmate of Pitt Chancellor Wesley Posvar and a football teammate of former Pitt Athletic Director Cas Myslinski. His long list of coaching and administrative credentials include: backfield coach at West Point (1947-49), backfield coach at Florida (1950-52), backfield coach of the Los Angeles Rams (1953-54), athletic director and head coach at The Citadel (1955-56), assistant coach of the College All-Stars (1959-65) and head coach of the College All-Stars (1966-67).

The Sauer family includes wife Jeanne and son John, Jr. (29). When Sauer is not in the broadcast booth, he works as a realtor at his Estate Managing and Planning business in Dayton.

TELEVISION:

An expanded Pitt football show was introduced three years ago, and with great enthusiasm, will continue in 1983. Panther Pride will be beamed, reaching potentially a nation-wide audience, through the use of a national cable system. The half-hour show will be produced and marketed by WTAE-TV/TCS, Inc. of New Kensington, PA, Nelson Goldberg, Executive Producer. It is a fast-paced half hour of game highlights, player profiles, player game comments, Foge Fazio insights and comments, and University documentaries. Flagship station for the show is WTAE-TV in Pittsburgh, which carries the broadcast 5:30-6:00 PM Sundays.

Pitt Stadium — Home of the Panthers

Good 'ole Pitt Stadium will be taking on a new look over the next year. Much of that change will be evident by the time of the season-opener on September 10. The floor of the Stadium will be covered with a new artificial surface called Superturf. And while that new turf may be the most noticeable of the changes, there are plenty more that have either been completed or will be completed in the near future.

This year there will be a new visitor's locker room, and the old locker room facilities will be converted into a new Sports Medicine complex. Two new restroom facilities have been added, and the interior of the Stadium has been rewired for lighting improvements. Due for completion in late December or early January is a four-story Athletic Administration office complex which will house the athletic department personnel.

It was not until 1925 that Pitt football teams had a home to call their own. Prior to that, Pitt teams played at Forbes Field, old home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, from 1909-1924. The newly-completed Forbes Quadrangle, which houses several departments and classrooms and is bordered by Roberto Clemente Drive, now stands on the old Forbes Field site.

From 1890 to 1908, the Panthers played at various ballparks, but mostly old Exposition Park on the North Side in the general vicinity of Three Rivers Stadium.

In 1925 Pitt Stadium was dedicated and the football teams have called it home ever since. With a present seating capacity of 56,500, Pitt Stadium is generally considered one of the finest spectator-viewing stadiums in the East. Every seat in the oval-shaped structure is a good one for football.

The structure has basically remained the same over the years, but many adjustments have been made that make Pitt Stadium one of the truly complete college sports complexes around.

The interior of the 54-year old bowl is painted bright blue and gold, contrasting with the dark green playing surface and the gold-colored 440-yard all-weather Tartan track. The original Astro-Turf surface was laid in 1969.

The Stadium became a more efficient and more attractive edifice in 1978. First, a new coaching office complex was opened. The two-floor office, reception, conference room, and workout area now houses the entire football staff.

In addition, a brand new, spacious and more efficient Ticket Office Headquarters was opened at Gate 1 in 1981.

Vast improvement in the seating was also completed a year ago as the result of a comprehensive two-year program that completely refurbished the seating. Adding greatly to the comfort of the fan, the old seats were removed, the concrete base was touched up and sealed, and new aluminum seats were installed. Half of the Stadium was completed after the 1977 season, and the other half was done in 1979.

Opened in 1925 at a cost of $2,125,000, the Stadium originally seated 67,000. Various seats have been removed to provide better access. The Stadium plant itself encompasses 10 acres with an outer circumference of one-half mile. The Stadium also houses the band, the track team, and a general reception area.

The first game at the Stadium was played in 1925 when Pitt defeated Washington & Lee, 28-0. During the next four seasons, the Panthers played 30 of their 34 games there.

The single game attendance record was set in 1938 when 68,918 fans jammed every corner of the Stadium to see Pitt beat Fordham, 24-13. The interest was at a peak for that game since the two teams had played to consecutive scoreless ties the three previous years.

In 1977, 287,867 fans saw the Panthers play six games at Pitt Stadium. That total is the highest for a single season; however, in 1982, 328,906 attended six home contests, but that figure includes the North Carolina game which was played at Three Rivers Stadium. Last year, the average per game attendance record was set as 54,818 fans on the average attended home games.

This is what Pitt Stadium looked like when Pitt defeated Fordham in front of the largest crowd ever at Pitt Stadium (68,918) in 1938. The Panthers featured the "Dream Backfield" and Fordham had a player named Vince Lombardi.

Pitt Scoreboard Keeps You Entertained and Informed

Since 1978, Pitt fans have been entertained and informed by a modern animated scoreboard in the south endzone of the stadium.

The two men who design and then program the unique displays that appear during the games are Ron Morris and Rick Roth, of Information and Systems Research, Inc. (ISR), a Coraopolis-based company which is recognized as one of the country's foremost manufacturers of program generators ("programs that write programs," says Roth) and other software development tools.

ISR also markets, through its subsidiary company ISR Municipal Systems, a mini-computer based financial control and management system for local governments, locally listing the Townships of Upper St. Clair and O'Hara and the Boro of West View among its many clients:

Roth earned an undergraduate degree (1974) and Morris a graduate degree (1975) from Pitt.

The actual computer used to operate the scoreboard is a 32KW (memory size) PDP 11/03 central processing unit (CPU), which is manufactured by the Digital Equipment Corporation (DEC) of Maynard, MA.

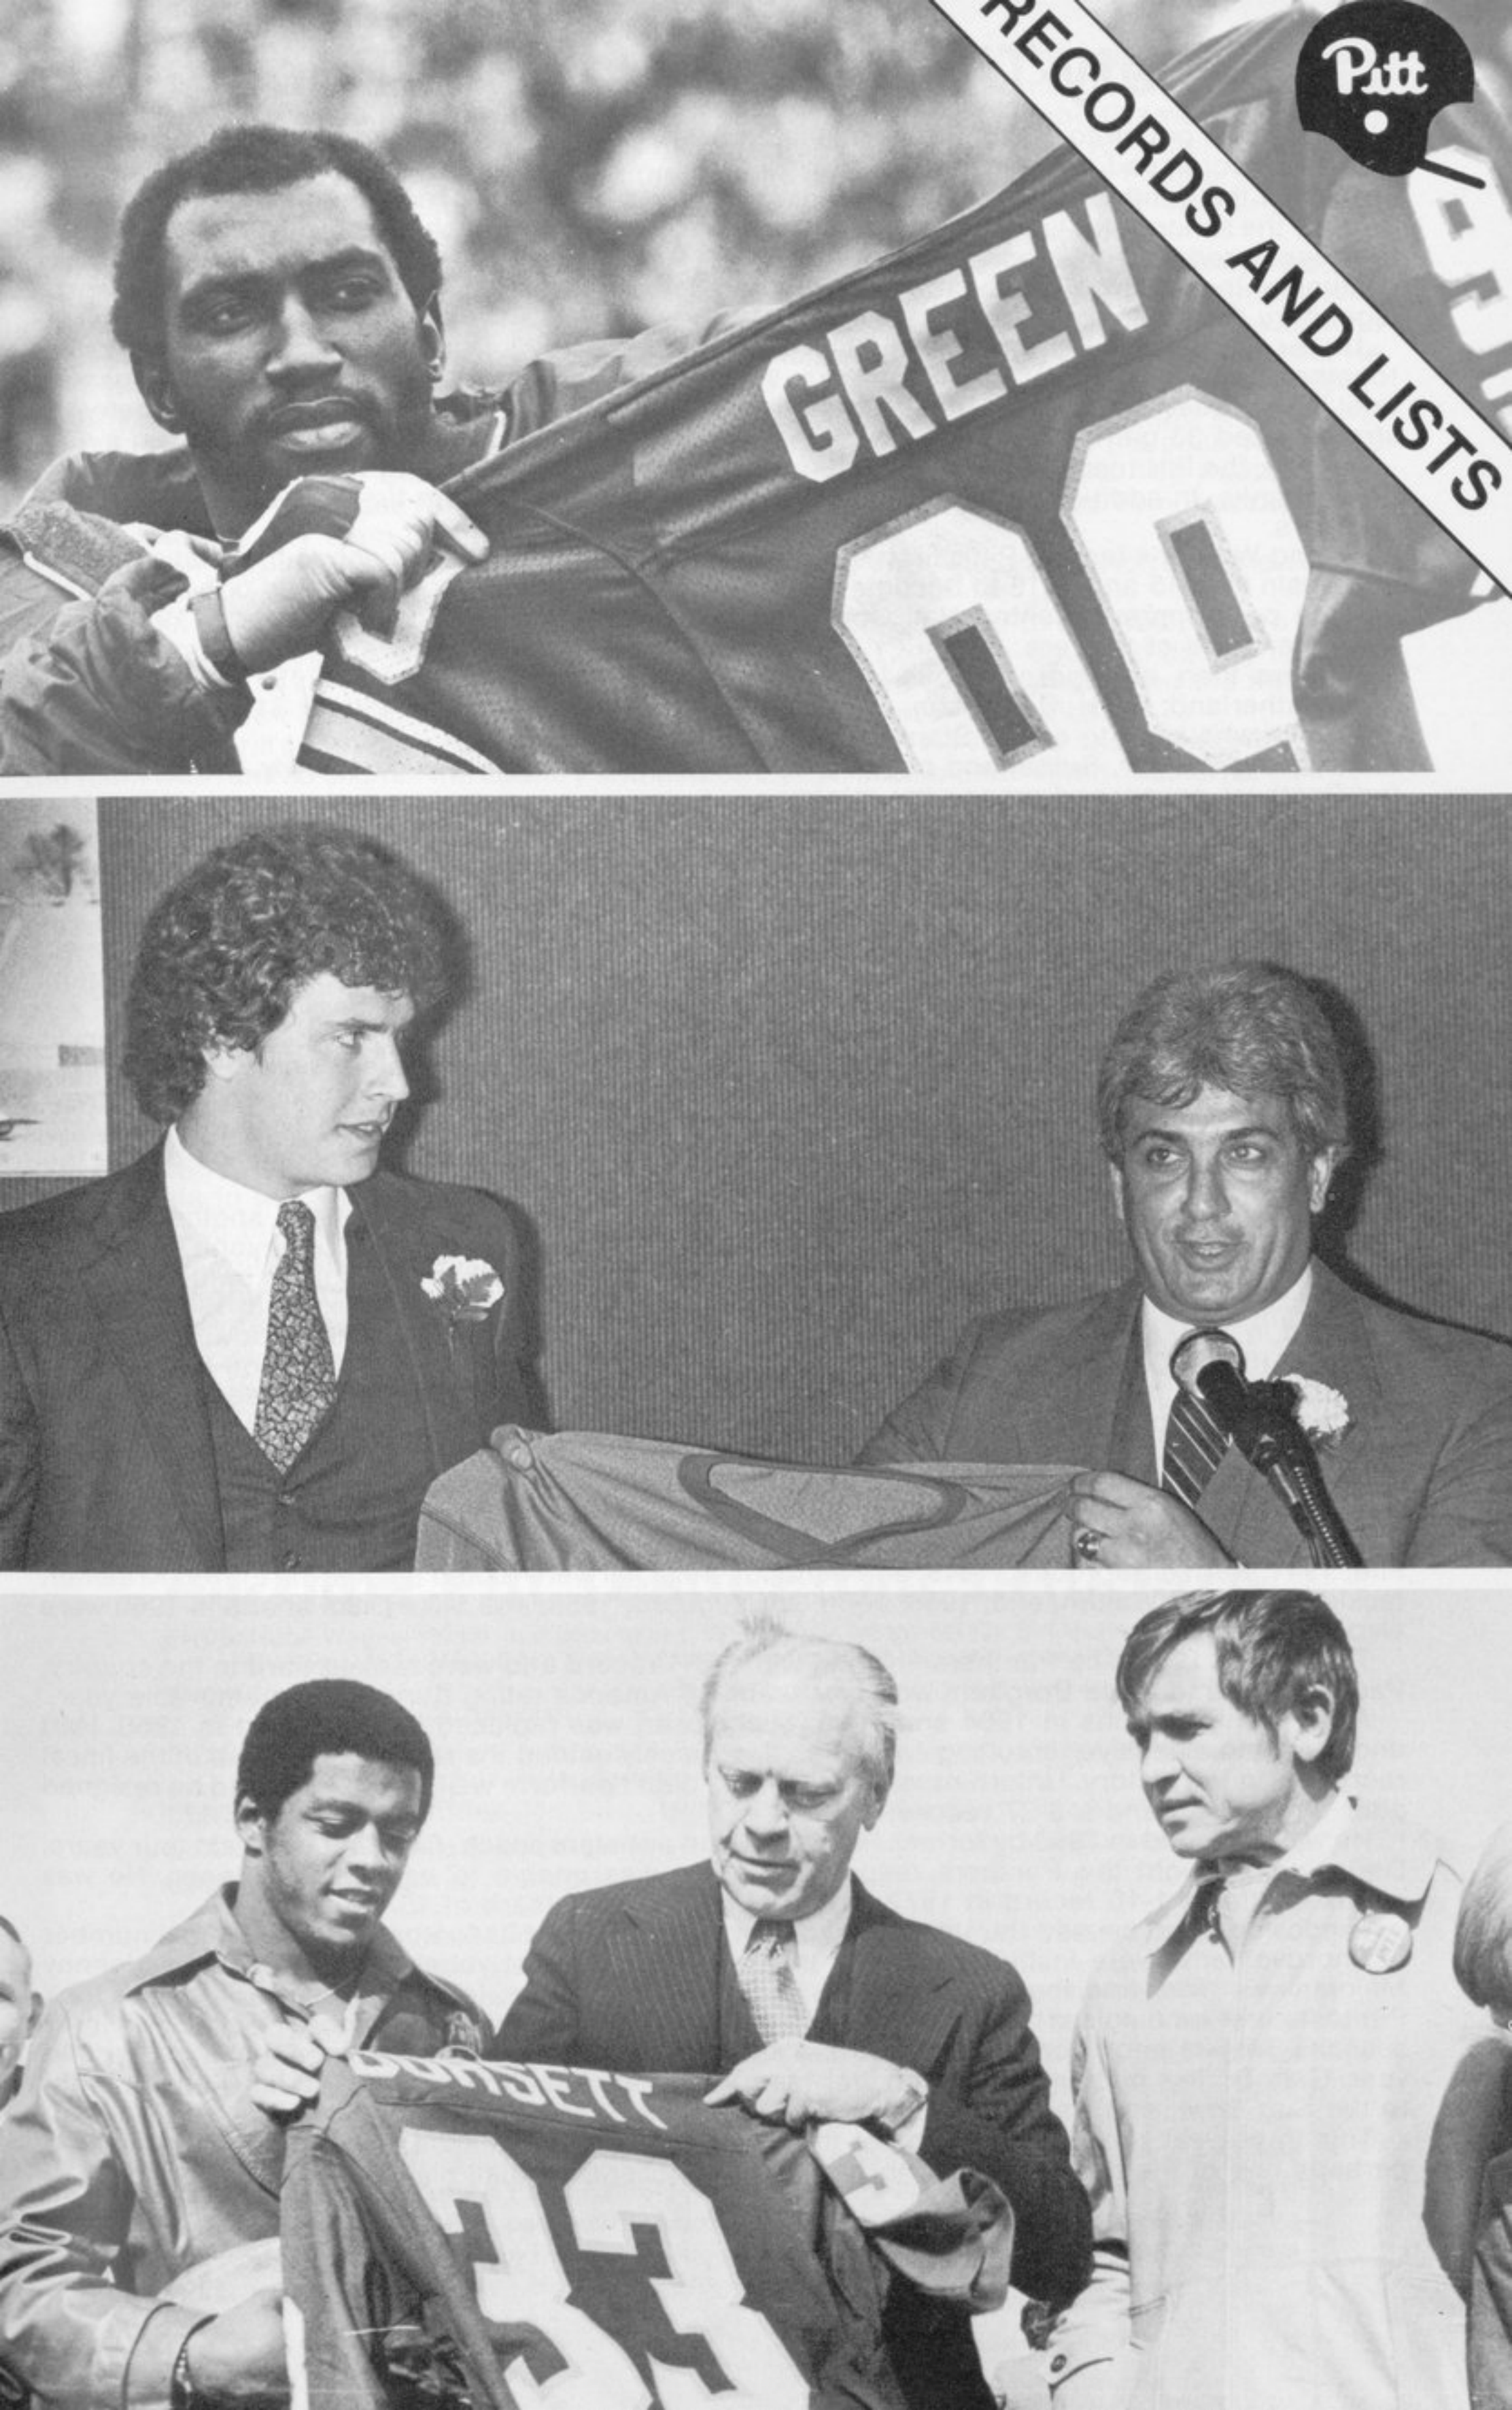
The scoreboard itself consists of a row by 120 column matrix of light bulbs. It principally runs on the same basis as your home television. The on/off pattern of lights is controlled by the software programs written by Morris and Roth, who are located in the pressbox computer room.

Most programs are created prior to gametime, but occasionally, they are written and tested during the game, prior to display on the board itself.

Morris and Roth are always working on new ideas and animations for the Panther games and spend generally 6-10 hours of preparation time for each game.

The Pitt scoreboard is sponsored by Equibank and Westinghouse.

RECORDS AND LISTS



Ninety-Three Years of Pitt Football

Pitt football got off to a humble beginning back in 1890. Only three games were played that year and the record read a modest 1-2.

In 1904 the Panthers, led by Joe Thompson of World War I fame, registered an undefeated 10-0 record, the school's first spotless mark. Thompson took over as coach after graduation and in 1910 the team produced an undefeated (9-0), untied, and unscored upon season. Under Joe Duff, brother of the former U.S. Senator, the Panthers lost only once in 1914 and set the stage for the legendary Glenn Scobey 'Pop' Warner in 1915.

Under Warner, the Panthers were 59-11-4 from 1915 to 1923. During this time the Panthers put together some formidable winning streaks. Warner's teams won their first 31 consecutive games, until W & J beat Pitt 13-10 in 1919. Counting the last two wins in 1914, the Panthers undefeated streak lasted 33 games.

In 1910, the Pitt team came up with an innovation for which millions of football fans have since given thanks. In addition to being undefeated, the Panthers were the first team to wear uniform numbers.

During Warner's tenure, Pitt's first All-America appeared. Bob Peck reached that status in 1914 and again in 1915 and 1916 to become a three-time All-America. Peck was rated one of the great all-time performers at center. Halfback Tom Davies and tackle Leonard Hilty (both 1918) were two other stars of that era.

Famous then, and more famous later, were a big Scotch guard/end and 1917 team captain, Jock Sutherland; Dr. H. C. Carlson, who went on to coach basketball at Pitt for 31 years; and Tiny Thornhill, who went to coach Stanford's Rose Bowl teams.

Following Warner, Sutherland began a 15-year regime in 1924. It began slowly, but ended with the Panthers ensconced among the mighty.

Sutherland recorded an incredible 111-20-12 record, including National Championships in 1929, 1931, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Coupled with Warner's three National Championships (1915, 1916, and 1918), the Panthers had won eight National Titles in 47 years. Pitt didn't add another title until 1976, to give the school a total of nine and place them 5th among all schools in NCAA history. These feats deeply entrench the Panthers as a truly great all-time college power. Sutherland's tenure also included four Rose Bowl trips, winning the 1937 game over Washington.

As should be expected with this kind of winning football, many performers won individual All-America acclamation: Ralph Chase, tackle, 1925; Gibby Welch, halfback, 1927; Mike Betto, tackle, 1928; Ray Montgomery, guard and Joe Donchess, end, 1929; Jess Quatse, tackle, 1931; Warren Heller, halfback, 1932; Joe Skladany, end, 1933; Doc Hartwig, guard, and George Shotwell, center, 1934; Averell Daniell, tackle, 1935; Marshall Goldberg, halfback, and Tony Matisi, tackle, 1937; and Goldberg and Bill Daddio, end, in 1938 all received All-America recognition during this period.

Sutherland left in 1938 and with his departure the Pitt program didn't have another winning season for a decade. Of course, during that time World War II took a bit out of everyone's program. After the War, however, it didn't take the Panthers long to get back in the winning swing of things. Mike Milligan turned in a winning record, the first in ten years, in 1948 and again in 1949. Milligan resigned in 1950 and he was replaced by Len Casanova who also departed the following summer. In 1951 Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took over. Ill health caused Lowell Dawson to step down in 1954 when Tom Hamilton took over once again for the remainder of the season. Hamilton handed the job to John Micheloson in 1955. Hamilton and Micheloson steered the team toward a winning direction. The 1955 season brought a 7-3 record and Sugar Bowl invitation (the Panthers dropped a close 7-0 game to Georgia Tech). The Gator Bowl followed in 1956 after a 7-2-1 season, but the Panthers hovered around the .500 mark until 1962.

During this stretch in history, numerous other Pitt Panthers attained All-America status. Ralph Fife, 1941; Bernie Barkouski, 1949; Joe Schmidt, 1952, all were touted as guards. Eldred Kraemer, tackle, 1952; Joe Walton, end, 1956; John Guzik, guard, 1958; and Mike Ditka at end in 1960 were also All-Americas.

Then came 1963. The Panthers finished with a 9-1 record and were ranked third in the country. Paul Martha and Ernie Borghetti won first team All-America rating during this memorable year.

After losing seasons in 1964 and 1965, Michelosen was replaced by Dave Hart in 1966. Hart undertook an extensive recruiting campaign and quickly gained the reputation as one of the finest recruiters in Pitt history. Unfortunately, the squads didn't perform well on the field, and he resigned after three years and a 3-27 record.

He was replaced in 1969 by former Pitt player and assistant coach, Carl DePasqua. In four years, DePasqua brought the Panthers respectability but was unable to establish a winner. He was released after a 1-10 record in 1972, giving him an overall mark of 13-29.

The losing trend caused the University to take a close look at its football program and a number of improvements were instituted. One of the country's brightest young football coaches, Johnny Majors, was hired and the program took an immediate upturn. In his first season, Majors took Pitt to its first winning season in ten years (6-4-1) and its first Bowl appearance (Fiesta Bowl) in 17 seasons. Majors improved that mark to 7-4 and a second place ranking in the East in his second year. Gary Burley, middle guard, won first-team All-America touting. In 1975 Pitt finished 8-4, went to the Sun Bowl, and was nationally ranked 13th by UPI.

This three-year growth served to set the stage for the 1976 season. The Panthers completed perhaps one of the most dramatic turnarounds in college football history in 1976—from 1-10 in 1972 to 12-0 and a National Championship in 1976. Tony Dorsett won the Heisman Trophy and first team All-America selection for the third year. Middle guard Al Romano won honors for the first time. Other Panthers (Jim Corbett, tight end; Tom Brzoza, guard, Jimbo Cramer, linebacker; Bob Jury; safety; and Carson Long, kicker) made second and third team All-America in 1976. Majors was named Coach-of-the-Year for the second time (1973) and the Panthers received just about every trophy available designating Eastern and National supremacy. Not since 1937 had the Panthers been able to call themselves Unanimous National Champion.

After Pitt's 27-3 win in the Sugar Bowl, Jackie Sherrill replaced Majors as coach. Majors opted to return to his alma mater, Tennessee. Sherrill, who was a Majors' assistant at Pitt for three years and was instrumental as an architect in the Pitt rebuilding job, left after the 1975 season to coach Washington State for a year (3-8) and readily returned to Pitt when the offer was made. He found himself in the strange role of inheriting a team coming off the National Championship.

But, in a pressure-packed atmosphere, Sherrill came through. He sustained the lofty heights that the Pitt program had reached. The Panthers were ranked 7th and 8th on the polls, registered a 9-2-1 record, and beat Clemson 34-3 to cop the Gator Bowl Championship. The Panthers had four first-team All-Americas (Randy Holloway, Matt Cavanaugh, Bob Jury and Tom Brzoza), which was the most by any team in the country.

In addition, eight Pitt gridders were chosen in the NFL draft—tied with Notre Dame for the highest number of any college team.

With such heavy losses by graduation, Sherrill had a rebuilding job to do. And it was a young team in 1978 that registered an 8-4 record and accepted a Tangerine Bowl bid (losing to North Carolina State 30-17). The bowl trip was the fourth consecutive by a Pitt team and the fifth in six years. Hugh Green and Gordon Jones were selected first team All-America.

In 1979, Sherrill's Panthers came through again, posting an 11-1 record and a Gator Bowl win. The team was ranked sixth in the country and helped Coach Jackie Sherrill win "Eastern Coach-of-the-Year" honors and boost his three-year record to 28-7-1, making him the winningest three-year coach in Pitt history.

The 1980 Panthers, led by Maxwell Trophy and Lombardi Trophy winner Hugh Green, stormed up another 11-1 season, followed by a 37-9 trouncing of South Carolina in the Gator Bowl. Offensive tackle Mark May won the coveted Outland Trophy, and by season's end, both wire services had Pitt ranked second in the nation, while the New York Times selected Pitt as the best college football team in the country. Four Panthers earned All-America honors (Hugh Green, Mark May, Benjie Pryor and Rickey Jackson).

To cap off the 1980 season, Coach Jackie Sherrill won the "Eastern Coach-of-the-Year" award for the second consecutive season, upped his four-year record to an incredible 39-8-1, and had 12 players drafted by the pros (six others signed as free agents) more than any other team in the nation.

In 1981, Sherrill's Panthers compiled a third-straight 11-1 season and an impressive 24-20 win over Georgia in the Sugar Bowl, the win coming on thrilling last minute pass from quarterback Dan Marino to tight end John Brown. The Panthers were ranked #2 in the Nation by the Associated Press and #4 by UPI.

Serafino "Foge" Fazio became the Panthers' 29th head coach when Sherrill left for Texas A&M after the 1981 season. Fazio led his team to a 9-3 record and a Cotton Bowl bid in his initial '82 campaign. Pitt wound up ranked 9th by UPI and 10th by AP. Twenty-four seniors graduated in 1982 after compiling a four-year mark of 42-6. Only two other coaches in Pitt history have won as many games in their first year as Fazio — Sherrill was 9-2-1 in 1977, and John Moorhead was 9-1 in 1907. Three of the '82 Panthers were first-round picks in the NFL draft — Marino, Tim Lewis, and Jimbo Covert. Covert, Bill Fralic, and Bill Maas were all selected to All-America squads.

In the summer of 1979, the team was updated again by a special panel of Pittsburgh sportswriters, broadcasters and knowledgeable Pitt football followers. Naturally there will be arguments, but that's expected. The last year the player performed is in parentheses.)

Here are the top Pitt ground gainers and scorers since 1914. They traveled far in picking up yards from scrimmage, passing, kick returns, and interceptions, and they put a lot of numbers on the Pitt side of the scoreboard.

Pitt Ranks 6th in National Championships

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1.

To settle countless arguments Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

In all of college football, only 42 different schools have claimed a national championship, and only 28 have managed to win two national titles. As shown below, the University of Pittsburgh is 6th to properly rank as one of the nation's all-time great football names.

PANTHERS IN THE PROS

The following is a list of former Pitt players who performed in the professional ranks in 1982 and the spring and summer of 1983. Of the 31 Pitt alumni listed, three — Mike Ditka, Hal Hunter, and Joe Walton — are coaches in the NFL. Walton, formerly the offensive coordinator for the Jets, will begin his first year as head coach this season.

Pitt Hall of Fame Awardees

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917 and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953, being among the first coaches named.

In 1954, Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-America (center in 1915 and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to have his name placed on the honor roll.

In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-America halfback in 1937 and an All-America fullback in 1938, was elected.

In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918, was elected.

In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921, was elected.

In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920, was elected.

In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912, was elected.

In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20, were elected.

In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933, were elected.

In 1979, Joe Donchess, All-America end in 1929, was elected.

Jock Sutherland

Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland was a great player and coach at Pitt.

Entering Pitt within a few years after he left his native Scotland, he was a regular guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917—teams that lost but one game during the entire period.

Upon graduation, with a dental degree in 1918, he went into the service, coached the Camp Greenleaf Team with the AEF, then came back to the coaching job at Lafayette. Four years later, in 1924, he replaced Pop Warner at Pitt, and after getting the foundation laid, put the Panthers back into the first line again.

There were national titles in 1927, 1929, 1936 and 1937; Eastern honors in 1925, 1927, 1929, 1931, 1932, 1934, 1936, and 1937. Rose Bowl appearances in 1928, 1930 and 1933, climaxed with a win in 1937. All-Americans were turned out with regularity during this period.

Leaving Pitt in 1939, he coached Brooklyn in 1940 and 1941, then went into the Navy. Upon his return he took over the Pittsburgh Steelers, giving them their greatest day until recent history. He died unexpectedly in the Spring of 1948.

Bob Peck

Bob Peck was Pitt's initial first team All-America, being selected by Walter Camp in 1915 and 1916. In both of these years Pitt was undefeated, and in his sophomore year, 1914, the Panthers lost only one game.

He was captain of the 1916 Pitt team that is rated among the greatest of all time, both at Pitt and in the nation. Playing under Pop Warner, Pitt's coach during his last two years, he was a terrific roving center of the old variety, and an accurate passing center who could lead the speedy Pitt backs on the famous single and double wing attack which Warner was then perfecting.

After his graduation he moved to Culver Military Academy where he was athletic director and head coach until his unexpected death in 1934.

Marshall Goldberg

Marshall Goldberg came to Pitt from Elkins, West Virginia, and for the three years of his varsity career was the most highly publicized and popular back in Pitt history until Tony Dorsett came along.

These three years, coincidental with Jock Sutherland's last three as Pitt's head coach, saw the Panthers win a national title, a Rose Bowl game, and two eastern championships.

In two years as the regular left halfback Goldberg was the leading scorer and leading ground gainer, and then, moving to fullback with the famous Dream Backfield of 1938, he became a terrific blocker and power back, despite his relative lack of weight (185). He was a defensive expert during his three years and starred at this phase when he went into pro ball.

On campus he was a member of Phi Epsilon Pi, national social fraternity, and ODK, national honorary leadership society.

Upon graduation he played pro ball and was in the insurance business in Chicago, served nearly four years as a line officer in the Navy, and then finished his pro career with the Chicago Cardinals when they won their first title. He is owner of Marshall Goldberg Machine Tools, Ltd., of Rosemont, IL.

George McLaren

George McLaren, who came to Pitt from Peabody High School, is considered the greatest fullback in the school's history.

He played four years, 1915-1918, and during this period, the Panthers compiled a 29-0 record. McLaren was captain of the 1918 team. McLaren scored 13 touchdowns in 1917 and also holds the one-season rushing mark by a Pitt fullback with 782 yards. He also holds the longest run from scrimmage, 92 yards in 1917. He was never stopped without making a gain during his intercollegiate career.

McLaren also was a member of the basketball team for two years and a performer on the track squad for two campaigns. He was elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

McLaren resided in the Baltimore area before his death in 1965.

Herb Stein

Herb Stein came to Pitt from Warren, Ohio, and for four years was one of the greatest offensive and defensive centers in Panther history.

A member of the great "Pop" Warner teams in 1918-21, he was named as a first-team All-American in 1921. During his four years, Pitt won 21, lost five and tied four. His brother, Russ, was also an All-American tackle at Washington & Jefferson.

. . . Hall of Fame

Tom Davies

A two-time All-American halfback, Tom Davies ranks as one of Pitt's greatest backs. After prepping at Kiski, Davies entered Pitt in 1918 and was named on the last Walter Camp's All-America team as a freshman under Glenn Scobie (Pop) Warner. Davies was a regular for four seasons and was again named All-America in 1920. He holds three Pitt punt return records and ranks third in the all-time total years gained department with 3,931 yards.

Following graduation from Pitt, Tom spent 25 years as a coach at Penn, Geneva, Allegheny, Rochester, Kiski, Scranton and Western Reserve.

Davies died in 1976.

Joe Thompson

The late Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach at Pitt from 1904-1912, was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1971. A native of Beaver Falls, Pa., Thompson came to Pitt in 1904 (after attending Geneva) and led the Panthers to their first undefeated season. In compiling a 10-0 record, Pitt gave up only five points to opponents. He captained the team in 1905 and in his three years the Panthers achieved an excellent 26-6 mark.

After taking over the coaching chores in 1908, Thompson compiled a four-year record of 30-14-2. His 1910 team was not only undefeated (9-0) but also unscored upon.

Hube Wagner

Hube Wagner came to Pitt from Monaca High School in 1910 and immediately became a member of the great Panther team which went undefeated, untied and unscored upon. While primarily an end, he filled in at every other position except quarterback because of his great versatility.

When old timers talk of all-time Pitt greats Wagner's name always comes early in the conversations. Competing against such opponents as Notre Dame, Penn State, the famous Carlisle Indians, Navy, Cornell, West Virginia, Bucknell, etc., he was sensational because of wild tackling and his powerful ball carrying. He never, however, made the Walter Camp All-America team because that famous selector did not see Pitt play until 1915.

He became an outstanding surgeon and for 12 years was a member of the University Board of Trustees. He was also elected a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Wagner died in 1979.

Herb McCracken

Herb McCracken, a native of Sewickley, was one of the most versatile and also one of the lightest football players in Pitt history. He made up in football instinct and desire for any lack of size, and those same attributes made him a successful coach.

He was a varsity player under Pop Warner from 1918-20, participating at halfback, fullback, guard, end and center. He also played three years of basketball, captaining the team his senior year.

He went on to achieve outstanding coaching records at Allegheny College and Lafayette. Herb left coaching in 1935 to co-found Scholastic Magazine, Inc. He has served as a trustee of both Pitt and Lafayette. He is a Varsity Letterman of Distinction.

Joe Donchess

Last fall, Dr. Joseph C. Donchess became the 11th former Pitt football player to be inducted (posthumously) into the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

A standout end for Coach Jock Sutherland from 1927-29, Joe was an integral cog on a team that went 23-4-2 during his career. In 1929, when the Panthers went 9-1 and won the the National Championship, Donchess was voted first-team All-America. Giving additional credence to his prowess, Joe is a member of Pitt's All-Time Team (1910-1978).

After his undergraduate days at Pitt, Joe attended the Pitt School of Medicine and became a doctor in 1932. While attending medical school, he also coached the Pitt football team from 1930-32. He coached the ends for Dartmouth from 1933-37 while doing graduate work in their school of medicine. After Dartmouth, he began a successful career as an orthopaedic surgeon.

A pillar of the community, Donchess belonged to numerous professional organizations, including the American College of Surgeons. He was a member of the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce and was the Chief Surgeon for United States Steel at Gary, Indiana.

He was a member of Phi Delta Theta, Nu Sigma Nu, and the Druids at Pitt, and his name is on the OKD walk. Donchess was a big contributor to the University for over 30 years and from 1960-62 was the Chairman of the Pitt Annual Giving Fund.

During his career, he wrote numerous articles for medical publications.

In recognition of his very special contributions, the Pitt football training room — inside Gate 3 at Pitt Stadium — was dedicated in his memory.

He died in 1978.

Ave Daniell

Averell Daniell, a member of the football team from 1934-36, captained the 1936 Pitt Rose Bowl championship team and was a consensus All-America standout on the line that was regarded as the best forward wall in Pitt history.

He then went on to play professionally with the Green Bay Packers. Following that he was a line coach at Dartmouth and at West Point before entering the Navy in WWII.

Following the War, he entered business and worked his way up to Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Alloy Manufacturing Company, a supplier to the Navy's nuclear propulsion program. That company later merged with Ionics, Inc., and Daniell now serves as its President.

A graduate of Mt. Lebanon High School, Ave majored in business administration at Pitt. He has been very active in the recent resurgence of Pitt athletics, and served as President of the Pitt Golden Panthers in 1974.

Joe Skladany

Joe Skladany was credited with helping Jock Sutherland build a great winning tradition at Pitt and earned first team All-America honors in 1933 and 1934. He played both offensive and defensive end.

At 205 pounds, Skladany played the strong side on the Panthers' unbalanced offensive line and anchored the defensive line from his defensive end position. With Joe leading the way, the 1933 defense allowed a mere two touchdowns en route to an 8-1 record. During his stay at Pitt, the Panthers posted a 24-3-2 record.

Skladany was elected to the Pioneer Division of the Hall of Fame, the section reserved for athletes who starred before 1934.

Following his college career, Skladany went on to become principal owner of the Pittsburgh Paperback Corporation. Prior to his death, Joe was quite active in Pittsburgh's community affairs.

Dave Hart
(1966-1968)

Hart's overall record (3-27) certainly did not reflect the positive contributions he made to the Pitt athletic scene. An excellent recruiter and administrator, most of Hart's assistant coaches have gone on to successful coaching careers, and Hart, himself, has become an outstanding collegiate administrator.

Carl DePasqua
(1969-72)

Carl A. DePasqua led the Panther squad from 1969-72. During that period, Pitt pulled out of the Big Four Agreement that had limited the Panthers, WVU, Penn State and Syracuse to 100 men on each team. DePasqua was also an outstanding fullback at Pitt and played in the Blue-Gray game in 1949. His overall coaching record was 13-29.

John Majors
(1973-76)

Majors is commonly known as the architect of the modern Pitt football renaissance. Under Majors, the Panthers played in the Fiesta Bowl (1973), the Sun Bowl (1975) and won the National Championship in the Sugar Bowl against Georgia in 1976. Pitt's only Heisman Trophy winner, Tony Dorsett, played under Majors. Majors left Pitt with an overall record of 33-13-1.

Jackie Sherrill
(1977-1981)

Jackie Sherrill quickly became one of the winningest coaches in Pitt football history. He took his Panthers to five straight bowl games including the Gator in 1977, the Tangerine in 1978, the Fiesta in 1979, the Gator in 1980 and the Sugar Bowl (and #2 ranking) in 1981. His overall record at Pitt was an outstanding 50-9-2.

PITT IN THE POLLS

Since there is no national playoff system for Division I-A football teams, the polls published by the Associated Press and United Press International are two of the ways of determining some sort of consensus on a National Champion.

The AP poll, which is voted on by sportswriters and broadcasters, has been in existence since 1936 and in that time the Pitt Panthers have finished atop the rankings twice — in 1937 and 1976. Other Panther finishes in the AP ratings include a second (1980), a third (1936), two fourths (1963, 1981), a seventh (1979), two eighths (1938, 1977), and a tenth (1982).

The UPI rankings are based on voting by coaches. Since the first poll in 1950, the Panthers have landed one National Championship — 1976, two years after the coaches began waiting until the conclusion of the bowl games to vote on a national champ. Before that time, the poll was taken after the regular season and before the bowl games. Other Pitt finishes in the UPI poll include two seconds (1980, 1981), a third (1963), a sixth (1979), a seventh (1977), and a ninth (1982).

Jim O'Brien, who has broad athletic experience on both the local and national levels, returned to his alma mater this past July to assume the duties of both Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations and Sports Information Director.

A 1964 Pitt graduate, O'Brien was a sports writer for the Pittsburgh Press for the past four years, during which time he also produced and edited two Pittsburgh-oriented hardback books — Hail to Pitt: The Sports History of the University of Pittsburgh and Pittsburgh: The Story of the City of Champions.

Before working at the Press, O'Brien was a sports writer at the New York Post for nine years and the Miami News for one year. He was also a columnist for nine years with The Sporting News and a contributing writer and correspondent for numerous national publications including Sport, Inside Sports, Sports Illustrated, Football News, Newsweek, Basketball Weekly, NFL GameDay, Football Digest, Basketball Digest and Baseball Bulletin.

Additionally, O'Brien has edited Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook, the #1 selling annual of its kind, for the past 13 years, and has done considerable public speaking engagements.

O'Brien earned his Bachelor's Degree in English Writing and served as sports editor of the Pitt News his sophomore and junior years and was associate editor of the paper his senior year.

In addition to his recent writing and editing responsibilities, O'Brien has taught writing courses at Point Park College the past two years and has also been largely responsible for the resurrection of the Curbstone Coaches luncheons in Pittsburgh for the past three years.

Married, he and his wife Kathleen Churchman, who has her Master's Degree from Pitt, are the parents of two girls, Sarah, 10, and Rebecca, 6. The O'Briens reside in Upper St. Clair, PA.

Kimball Smith begins his seventh season as a member of the sports information staff.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Smith continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned his Master's Degree in Athletic Administration in 1976. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and UMass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1976. He was hired in his present capacity in the spring of 1977.

Smith's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball. Last season, he won a CoSIDA award for the 1982-83 men's basketball brochure.

He is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean, age 5.

A 1980 Pitt graduate, Venzon worked as a student intern under Dean Billick one year before gaining public relations experience on the professional sports level with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In three years, Venzon has hosted eight regional and conference championships in various sports. For the past two years, her duties were expanded to cover all of Pitt's 17 varsity sports, while assisting in football and men's basketball.

Venzon was selected to aid the NCAA in its initial women's basketball championships in Norfolk, Virginia. She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America and won her first CoSIDA award for the 1981 women's basketball brochure. Venzon is in her second year as the District II Academic All-America chairperson for men's sports. She is also a member of the Pittsburgh Pinch Hitters.

Venzon is originally from Harrison Park.
